ENFORCE TREATY OR ABANDON IT POINCARE URGES

Ambassadors to Allied Capitals Will Insist Upon Enforcement.

Declares Concessions to Germany Are Taken as Evidence of Weakness.

Paris, April 20.—Instructions sent by Premier Poincare to the French ambassadors in the capitals of the allies and fully approved by the cabinet, are to insist that energetic measures must be taken and penalties applied to Germany if the Russo-German treaty is not abrogated, regardless of what the Genoa conference may decide.

The premier's position is that there can be no more hesitation in the execution of the treaty of Versailles and that unless its execution is insisted upon now with evidences of determination on the part of the allies, the treaty may as well be abandoned altogether. He holds that none of the concessions made to Germany has led in any respect to conciliation but rather that they have been taken by Germany as evidences of the weakness of the allies and as encouragement for further resistance.

Premier Poincare has held consultations with a number of the leaders of the different parties in the last two days besides keeping the cabinet in close touch with the situation. The conservatives and the nationalists advised a firm attitude, as was expected, while the more liberal elements in the parliament represented by such leaders as Deputy Herriot, head of the Radicals, also gave the premier to understand they would support the cabinet in demanding that a stop be put to the violations of the Versailles treaty.

It was pointed out today that the Russo-German treaty had brought to light violations of the Versailles pact by Germany in respect to military matters, the Germans having, it appears, sold the arms which the Russian refugees had left in Germany instead of handing them over to the allied commission for destruction, as provided by the peace treaty.

(Article 1 of the Russo-German treaty, at the end of Clause C reads: "The Russian government renounces payment of the sum Germany has derived from the sale of Russian army material transported into Germany.")

LIONS CLUB HEARS TALKS ON Y. M. C. A.

Representatives of the Y. M. C. A. were guests at the regular meeting of the Newark Lion's club at the noon-day luncheon in Masonic Temple yesterday.

William Greiser, secretary of the Newark association and H. J. Martin, state and city worker, both spoke on the growth of the Y. M. C. A. and told of the work that this organization is doing both in this and foreign countries.

Perry Trivener, local florist, was added to the membership as a new cub, and Rev. I. G. McCormack made the address of welcome. Other guests introduced during the meeting were William J. Shira, agent for a typewriter company and Dr. Carl J. Dillon.

A committee was appointed by the president, Dr. Carl Evans, to act as a library committee, the Lion's club having voted to have a Lion's corner in the Newark public library.

WILL NEED EXTRA TAX TO MEET BIG DEFICIT

Washington, April 20.—Levying of additional taxes probably will be necessary to meet the deficit of more than $350,000,000 forecast for the fiscal year of 1923 by Secretary Mellon, it was stated today at the treasury.

High officials of the treasury discussing the expected deficit said that no consideration had yet been given to means of meeting the lack of funds but that it was apparent the deficit would probably have to be raised by taxation as the government "did not have anything to sell."

Whether the deficit would run as high as a half a billion dollars as estimated by some treasury officials could not be accurately determined at this time, it was said as the various contingent items of revenue and expenditures taken into consideration in figuring the finances for the coming fiscal year made an accurate determination of the expected deficit impossible. Officials asserted however, a considerable deficit was certain.

D. A. R. Delegates On Pilgrimage To Washington's Home

Washington, April 20.—The annual pilgrimage to Mount Vernon today of the delegates to the congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be marked by the presence there of Marshal Joffre of France, to take part in the exercises. The French military hero, who is concluding his American tour with a five day visit here, will be accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand, who will plant on the soil of Washington's home a tree from LaGrange castle, France, the home of Lafayette as a gift to the Daughters of the American Revolution. The society also will plant a tree brought from Sulgrave Manor, the Washington ancestral home in England, and presented through the British embassy.

Wreaths will be placed on Washington's tomb by Marshal Joffre and Mrs. George Maynard Minor, president general of the Daughters, and one by the latter also to the tomb of Martha Washington.

Returning here after the exercises, Marshal Joffre and Madame Joffre will dine with the president at the White House.

Gallipolis, O., April 20.—It was announced here today by Clifton Rodes that a burley tobacco pool comprising Gallia and Lawrence counties would be formed. Headquarters of the pool will be in Huntington, W. Va.

ROTE GOVERNOR TO SPEAK HERE

Robert Patterson

Mr. Patterson, governor of the Ohio District of Rotary will be guest of the Newark club Tuesday night at dinner at the Masonic temple.

SHOTS FIRED AT BURGLARS

Night Watchman at Granville Wings One of Men Who Sought to Rob Jewelry Store.

(Special to the Advocate)

Granville, April 20.—Six places in Granville were burglarized with only small loss last night, according to Marshal Joe Shipley. The Little Gem restaurant, the Stuart jewelry store, Ullman's drug store, the Co-operative company office, the R. B. White Lumber company office and the Bishop filling station were the places entered.

Night Watchman Harry Miller discovered a young man as he was breaking the plate glass window in the Stuart store about 2:20 this morning and fired several shots at him and an accomplice who was a lookout. The men were traced up north of Granville and there lost. Evidences of blood found on the sidewalk this morning indicate that at least one of the robbers was wounded and Marshal Joseph Shipley is working on the case.

Jeweler Stuart reports that several articles of small value were taken from his store; the Little Gem reports that some food was taken, while the remaining places that were entered were untouched beyond the breaking of glass, which was the method used to gain entrance in each case.

Safe blowers who operated at Centerburg Tuesday night, entering several places, got $100.

This evening at 8 o'clock in Recital hall, the Shepardson debating team will meet the Marietta women debaters in the affirmative of the proposition, Resolved, "That the United States should recognize the Soviet government as the de facto government of Russia."

On Friday evening the preliminary oratorical contest of the high school will be held in the opera house with a dozen contestants for the honor of representing Granville in the county contest.

LIVERPOOL STEAMER RADIO'S FOR HELP

Halifax, N. S., April 20.—The Leyland steamer Oxonia from Portland, Maine to Liverpool, broke her rudder stock about 800 miles southeast of Halifax and has sent out calls for assistance, according to a wireless message picked up here today.

NEW DELAWARE MATRON.

Columbus, April 20.—Announcement of the appointment of Mrs. W. L. Stannard of Detroit, Mich., as chief matron of the Girl's Industrial School at Delaware, was made today at the office of the director of public welfare. She succeeds Mrs. Margaret McNamar, resigned. Mrs. Stannard assumes here duties May 1. Mrs. McNamara was chief matron for almost ten years. Mrs. Stannard, it was says, has been engaged in special work among wayward girls and women for some time.

FREIGHTER SINKS AFTER COLLISION; ALL SAVED

Buenos Aires, April 20.—The Munson line steamer Aeolus, bound from Rio Janerio to Montevido collided with the British freighter Zero early today off the cost of Uruguay, says a wireless message received at the Munson line office here. The Zero sank, but all of her crew were saved.

FIRING LASTS ALL NIGHT IN DUBLIN STREETS

Free State Troops Subjected to Frequent Attack During Night.

Only One Casualty Results Though Hundreds Of Shots are Fired.

Dublin, April 20.—Last night was the worst Dublin has expedienced since Easter, so far as noise is concerned. The residents were kept awake by continuous rifle and machine gun fire and the noise of military lorries rushing to the relief of places attacked, but thus far only one casualty has been reported.

Several buildings occupied by the provisional free state government and guarded by official troops, were attacked, according to the last edition of the morning newspapers.

The headquarters of the provisional free state government in the College of Science were attacked from front and rear, but despite terrific firing, entry was not effected. The city hall and telephone exchange also were heavily assaulted.

According to reports from an independent source, midnight had scarcely passed when heavy volleys of revolver shots were heard from Quay and Connel streets, while opposing parties exchanged lozens of shots up and down the middle of Abbey street.

At about 12:30 o'clock there was a comparative lull in the battle, but 20 minutes later several rapid volleys were heard again. The uproar soon subsided and except for an occasional revolver shot, quiet was restored shortly after one a.m.

Armored cars later patrolled the center of the city and everybody on the streets was searched.

BELFAST DEATH TOLL EIGHT IN TWO DAYS

Belfast, April 20.—Sniping was renewed today in the Short Strand, the scene of last night's fierce riot and the ambulance men took two wounded persons to the hospital.

Mary Keehan, who was shot yesterday is dead, bringing the death roll since Tuesday to eight, of whom four were killed in last nights disorders.

LITTLE HOPE FOR PEACE AS RESULT OF PARLEY

Dublin, April 20.—Little hope for tangible results in the direction of peace was expressed on the resumption today of the peace conference between the free staters and Republicans, although Lord Mayor O'Neill and Arch Bishop Byrne have exerted themselves to the utmost since the adjournment last week to effect an understanding. The public is generally skeptical of results and therefore is showing little interest in the meeting at the mansion house.

Labor leaders are reported to have conferred for the last few days with the heads of the provisional free state government and the Republicans and may be represented at todays meeting, although this is not certain.

One of the main stumbling blocks in the way of an understanding is the apparent irreconciliability of the two parties regarding the holding of elections o nthe existing parliamentary register.

Arthur Griffith is said to hold firmly to his view that the elections cannot be postponed beyond the first week in June, while Mr. De Valera contends that a new register is indispensable to obtaining the popular verdict at the polls, whatever delay its preparation may entail.

WALL STREET MARKET SEEKS NEW RECORD

New York, April 20.—Wall street, having passed the two million share market this week for the first time since April 1920, now has its eyes on another record—the number of consecutive million share days.

With yesterday's substantial turnover of nearly 1,500,000 shares the New York stock exchange passed the million share mark for the 14th consecutive day, and the 22nd time since the beginning of the year. In the declining markets in the spring of 1920, there were 19 straight days on which the sales exceeded a million shares. This started in April and ended on May 3. In March of that same year, 15 consecutive million share days were recorded. The record for all time, however, was that of 1921, when in March, April and May, the consecutive million share days numbered 44. In January and February of the same year the record was 24.

324TH VETERANS PLAN REUNION

Suggestion is Made That Springfield's Battery Reunion Be Made a Regimental Affair.

Informal discussion of a reunion of members of the 324th heavy field artillery marked the business meeting of the 324th Veterans' association at the business meeting which followed the open meeting held last night in the G. A. R. hall. The suggestion was made that the reunion of Battery B at Springfield this year be made a regimental affair for all who were members of this regiment at any time after its organization.

The meeting last night was successful. A program of vocal and instrumental music was presented by Bernard Horning, Sam Gelfer, Frank Reynolds, Frank Ewald, the Cole Comedy Four, Miss Ethel Sanders and Miss Francis Lautenslager. Little Miss Lautenslager's numbers "Kill 'em with Kindness" and "When Francis Dances with Me," were particularly enjoyable.

John A. Thompson presided at the meeting. Mayor Orr spoke of the 324th regiment and its service to the union and the needs for an organization. George H. Hamilton and K. L. Brown spoke on "Organization."

The officers of the association are George Coyle, president, Bernard Horning, vice president; Maurice Floyde, secretary-treasurer. All former members of the 324th regiment are eligible to membership.

ALLIES NOTIFIED TO MEET DEBT BOARD

Washington, April 20.—Allied governments to which the United States extended loans during the world war have been advised by the state department that the American debt refunding commission is prepared to begin negotiations for conversion of the various loans amounting to eleven billion dollars, into long time securities.

Treasury officials in making this known today said the date of inauguration of the refunding negotiations could not be determined until replies had been received from the various allied governments. Negotiations with Great Britain over the conversion of that nation's five billion dollar debt are expected however, to be started within the next few weeks.

Under the most favorable circumstances, treasury officials declared, it was not thought possible that sufficient payments of interest could be obtained from Great Britain or any of the other nations in time to provide for the payment of a soldier bonus. Interest amounting to about $100,000,000 will become due from Great Britain in November, which of itself, it was stated, would be insufficient for bonus purposes. It also was said that such interest probably would be needed to meet various government expenditures.

JACKSONTOWN K. OF P. TO HOLD OPEN MEETING

The open meeting of the Knights of Pythias at Jacksontown this evening will be attended by many Newark K. of P. members. Roland lodge drill team and band will attend and a program of speakers has been arranged. The ladies of the grange will serve dinner at 7:30 o'clock, eastern time.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE IS PEACE MENACE

Germany, Russia and Turkey Seem to Be Drifting That Way, Italian Deputy Declares.

Geno, April 20.—Deputy Gino Baldesi, Socialist, of Florence, secretary of the general confederation of labor, in commenting today on the situation here declared that in his view everything pointed to the gradual formation of an international bloc in eastern Europe, comprising Germany, Russia and Turkey, in opposition to the western European bloc, comprising the allied. This, he declared, would create an atmosphere that might lead to a no distant and the most terrible war.

Among the reports circulated this forenoon was one that the French cabinet had decided to insist that the Germans and Russians cancel their treaty. French headquarters at noon said it had no confirmation of this report. (Paris advices today stated the French cabinet had approved instructions to the French ambassadors at the allied capitals that they insist upon taking of energetic measure and the application of penalties to Germany if the Russo-German treaty were not abrogated, regardless of what might be decided by the Genoa conference)

The idea expressed by spokesmen at French headquarters was that France's attitude toward both Germany and Russia would be "stiff" because the French had not come to the conference, they declared, to be the cat's paw for either the Germans or the Russians. They had not received, but said the text of the reported Russian center proposale on the overtures made by the allies for a general convention with Russia, but had heard that they contained concessions.

The German delegation at noon had made no reply to Lloyd George's ultimatum that they either withdraw the Russo-German treaty or accept the penalty of disbarment from the conference's discussions of the Russian question. The Germans are divided on the issue, and no reply is expected from them before tonight. The Russians say the treaty must stand.

NEWARK MAN DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Word was received here today of the death of Harry Roney, aged 33 years, which occurred this morning in Los Angeles, California, following an operation.

Mr. Roney was born and reared in Newark and was the son of the late William Roney. He left Newark for the west three years ago and had been employed as a railway switchman.

Surviving are one brother, Arthur Roney of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Starr of East Church street, and Mrs. Norma Knight of Columbus.

The body will be brought to Newark for burial. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

SUES HUSBAND TO REGAIN HER RIGHTS

Eva G. Harris filed suit for divorce from John C. Harris, et al., in common pleas court Wednesday afternoon. The petition alleges failure to fulfill a promise to give her $5,000 and cancel a mortgage of $400 on her property and alleges misrepresentation and fraud on his part when he persuaded her to sign an agreement giving up her rights in his property in case of separation or divorce. She now seeks to be restored to her rights as his wife and asks for divorce and alimony and the restoration of her maiden name of Eva G. Lane. An injunction restraining Harris from withdrawing monies or securities from the First National bank at Utica or from encumbering his property, worth $15,000, is also asked of the court through Attorneys Flory and Flory.

PAGE KIDS KING ALFONSO; GETS INVITATION TO PALACE AND TIP

Madrid, April 20.—"Would you have the kindness to ask the secretary to speak on the telephone?" This message, received by a page at the Military club of Madrid, so astounded him by its politeness that he thought one of the other boys was having a joke with him. He therefore replied:

"Hold the line, old bean, (or the Spanish equivalent), and I'll give him to you."

To his horror, the secretary addressed the person who had rung up as, "Your majesty."

Shortly afterwards a message came that the page was to come to the palace. There the King received him and gave him a 100 peseta note, saying laughingly:

"There you are, old bean," and invited him to spend the rest of the afternoon at the palace with the royal children.

WIND SAVES MUCH FRUIT

Low Temperatures Recorded in Various Parts Of County, But Trees Escape Damage.

Low temperatures throughout the county are reported today though it is the belief of fruit growers that the trees escaped damage due to the high wind.

From several points in the county water left out of doors was found to have frozen during the night. Because of the high wind there was no frost and it is also thought that the wind prevented damage from the freezing.

The weather forecast from the Columbus bureau today again warns against possible frost tonight if the wind dies down and the skies remain clear, both of which are probable.

DISABLED VETS PLAN TAG DAY

Will Sell Tags Saturday To Raise Funds to Equip Club Rooms and Do Relief Work.

To raise funds to equip a club room and to carry on relief work among disabled veterans, members of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will conduct a tag day Saturday.

These veterans recently organized an association and elected officers and are now seeking quarters for a club room. The funds will be needed for equipment as well as for relief work among the members who are still suffering from wounds or other disability due to service in the army. Harry P. Johns is commander of the association and Martin J. Mills is adjutant.

CITY HOSPITAL HAS TEMPORARY STAFF

A temporary staff is in charge at the City Hospital until Miss Viola Fell assumes her duties as superintendent May 15.

Miss Mary Kibler, daughter of Mrs. Edward Kibler, Sr., is acting as dietian, until the graduate dietitian takes up her work with Miss Fell. Miss Tuss of Grant hospital, Columbus is temporary superintendent, and Miss Sue Rainey is assistant superintendent. Miss Martin is night supervisor and Miss Beda Johnson is in charge of the operative department.

MATZENAUER'S HUSBAND TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

San Francisco, April 20.—Floyd Glotzbach will file suit for divorce from Madame Margaret Matzenauer, the contralto, in superior court here today, according to J. Maxwell Peyser, his attorney. Glotzbach asserted that his return to his Pacific coast home and his former occupation of chauffeur a month ago was because he was no "lady's maid." He stated that the opera singer was "an orchid and he was wild mustard and that the two did not make a good domestic bouquet."

After the separation and a stormy exchange of interviews, Madame Matzenauer, then in St. Louis, announced her intention of seeking a divorce.

SCHIMPF FINED $1000 AND COSTS

Draws $500 Fine on Each Of Two Charges Made Following Raid By the Police Saturday.

Charles Schimpf was fined $500 each on two counts of manufacturing and possession of intoxicating liquor by Judge Bolton of the municipal court Wednesday afternoon. Schimpf's place was raided Saturday night when the officers secured 26 cases of home brew beer and three barrels of mash. Schimpf was defended by Attorneys Russell and Schaller, who intend to appeal the case to a higher court.

WOMAN FINED $50 FOR DESTROYING EVIDENCE

Mrs. Assinda Finamore was found guilty in municipal court this morning of a charge of interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Bolton. Mrs. Finamore in her defense alleged that the jug which she broke after it was seized by the police officers contained wood alcohol. She alleged that she was afraid that the officers were going to "frame" her to secure a conviction. Evidently the judge didn't believe it.

SEIZE DRUGS WORTH $200,000 ON LINER

San Francisco, April 20.—A contraband shipment of 14,000 tins of opium and other drugs, valued at $200,000 was seized today on the China Mail company liner Nanking. The Nanking arrived from the Far East April 16. The seizure was one of the biggest in the history of the port of San Francisco.

PAN AMERICAN WOMEN ARE IN CONFERENCE

Pan American Conference Opens 3-Day Session in Baltimore.

Problems of Special Interest to Women are Discussed.

Baltimore, Md., April 20.—Responding to the call of the National League of Women Voters, women from all the Americas assembled here today in conference on subjects of special concern to women, education, child welfare, women in industry, prevention of traffic in women, civil and political status of women and international friendliness. The league believes that "friendliness with our neighbor countries will be stimulated and strengthened when women from all parts of the western hemisphere come together for sympathetic study of their common problems."

It is the announced object of the conference to develop the closest possible cooperation between the women of these countries and it is hoped eventually to develop this cooperation throughout the world.

The conference will continue through Saturday and will continue through Saturday and will be followed on Monday by the regular annual convention of the National League of Women Voters.

Women representatives from virtually every South and Central American state; also from Canada and the dependencies of this country, named as delegates by their respective governments are present.

In bringing the greetings of the Pan-American Union, Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the union, said that as he looked over this assemblage from every section of the American continent, he found much to stir the imagination.

"At a time," he said, "when European delegates are meeting to allay antogonism that divide, you have assembled to solve the problems common to growing democracies of America. The thought underlying all your deliberation is the unity of interest of America and the mutual helpfulness of its competent parts."

In congratulating the National League of Women Voters "for their far-seeing statesmanship in calling together such a notable inter-national assemblage," Dr. Rowe said he felt that congratulations were primarily due the nations of America, "which, conscious of unity of purpose and ideals are prepared, through interchange of experience and unity of effort to carry forward to successful solution the great social and economic problems which confront them."

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters, who presided at the opening session, expressed the league's appreciation of the interest which has brought together in this way representatives of many nations to meet on a common ground and "discuss with us the problems which we all share and which we shall solve far better for the cooperation which an international makes possible.

"We feel sure," she added, "that you join with us in an earnest hope that our conference may promote international friendliness by cementing the bond of friendship between the women of the Americas."

FROST WARNING IS AGAIN GIVEN OUT

Columbus, April 20.—Heavy frost was predicted for Ohio again tonight by the United States weather bureau. The prediction said that the present cold wace, which has been general over the middle west, probably will end tomorrow, when rising temperatures are promised.

The weather bureau reported a heavy frost last night in southwestern Ohio in the Cincinnati area and a light frost general over western Ohio. The weatherman asserted that last night's heavy winds prevented a killing frost in western Ohio.

Little wind is predicted for tonight.

The wedding will take place June twenty-first at Muskingum college. Dr. Montgomery has visited Newark on several occasions to deliver lectures.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Bauer of Maple avenue, Zanesville, will entertain with a bridge party Friday evening in honor of their nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker (Justine Pearsall) who were recently married and for Miss Virginia Sharer and Joseph Palmer of Cleveland, whose engagement has been announced. Spring flowers will be used in the decorations.

Mrs. J. P. Glancy will entertain the members of the Coterie club at her home in North Fourth street Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Gabkee will be hostess to the members of the Unity Reading Circle Tuesday afternoon at her home in East Main street.

The meeting of the Woman's Bible class of the East Main street M. E. church was held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Shira in Dewey Ave., Wednesday. The president Mrs. Victoria Montgomery called the meeting to order and there were twenty-three members and five guests present. Mrs. Richard Watts was in charge of the devotionals and Mrs. Martha Oden read the minutes of the last meeting. The president gave a report of the class collection and flowers sent the members of the class. Mrs. W. H. Swartz, resigned her position as teacher of the class and Mrs. W. M. DeLong was elected to succeed her. Mrs. S. Robb was elected recording secretary and Mrs. Katherine Faulds and Mrs. Victoria Montgomery as a committee on carrying greetings. The class will meet every third Wednesday in the month. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. N. Huggins in Penny avenue.

FABRIC HATS SCORE

Fabric hats will be worn a very great deal this summer. They come in all of the lovely tones in which one wants their summer frocks. Silky-way brocade, draped softly over the frame, makes a delicately beautiful background for the huge flower poised at the front of this hat.

Lady Astor Consents to Talk On Many Topics of Interest

New York, April 20.—Vivacious Lady Astor, smiling, chatting continuously and joshing those about her ,arrived from England aboard the steamship Olympic today on her way to Baltimore, where she will address the Pan-American conference of women. To greet Lady Astor—native of Virginia, wife of a British peer and the first woman ever elected to the house of commons—scores of friends and admirers gathered at the pier.

As the Olympic steamed up the bay from Quarantine she gave reporters flashing comments on all manner of things—Lloyd George, flappers, prohibition, Margot Asquith, the labor situation, the Genoa conference, the servant problem and her own children—six in number.

"The only remarkable thing about me is my children," she said, holding to the arm of her husband, Viscount William Waldorf Astor.

"Lloyd George still has his head above water and it is some head, too," she replied to a question.

Speaking as a Virginian does, without a trace of British accent, Lady Astor said she was "still an unreconstructed southerner."

"And when I hear Dixie, something happens," she added.

Her children, she described as "mongrels three-fourths American."

As to women's place in the world she said those of her sex were just as individual as men.

The clothes nearly all women are wearing are unfortunate, she said.

"Nothing lets the sex down like running about half naked," she went on. "There is no use talking about equality if we only use our liberty to show our hideousness. Last night I wore a dress I have used since 1918. If you keep your eye on your body all the time you can't keep keep it on your soul."

A semi-circle of photographers kept closing in upon her.

She took hold of Viscount Astor's arm, winked and said:

"Married, though happy." Then began the interview—with the ultimate topic—prohibition.

"I don't believe what the British papers say about prohibition in this country," she said, "I would not say what I thought of its effects until I had seen them.

"Margot Asquith's views? as regards her views, I could tell you a lot of things, but I won't. All I can say is that she is no more typical average English woman than she is a typical average American woman. I might say she is unique."

OUR FIRST YEAR

BY A BRIDE

Start this today

Marriage should have no shackles, in the opinion of Jack and his bride. They're trying out the theory. Now she's about to help him in business by employing her social talents.

CHAPTER XVIII

THE WIFE AND THE OFFICE

And now I have made Jack late to the office two mornings in succession! I'm terribly sorry because Jack hates it so. He's punctual by nature; never too early, never too late at any engagement.

Unfortunately, there's a staff meeting the first thing each morning. And the "boss" has a horrible habit of pointing out tardy individuals for reprimand, and making them feel like small boys late to school.

This morning he pointed a forefinger straight at Jack when he walked in eight minutes after 9 o'clock. And he fairly yelled out:

"Late again, Madison! You were late yesterday! Why? Explain!"

And after storming so that almost everybody turned around to see how Jack took it, the "boss" went right on with business and never gave Jack a chance to say a single word. Perfectly maddening!

And it was my fault that Jack had to endure this humiliation. But he didn't tell me about it. Jessie Langdon did. She had lunched with her husband down town and then she phoned me.

"I thought you ought to know," she said. "so you can get the poor boy off earlier in the morning!"

"So sweet of you to tell me, dear! Jack never would!" I answered. As I hung up the receiver I was reminded of what Jack often said, that business and society mix about as well as oil and water.

I think Jack is wrong. I think a wife can help a husband wonderfully by being friendly with the office. But Jack insists that he doesn't like cliques, and that just as soon as the wives get friendly the cliques are sure to form and create jealousies and rivalries.

I'm hoping it won't happen in our east. For Jesie Langdon added an invitation to her phone talk. Or rather, she said that she called me to invite me to a morning bridge. It's a progressive party, from 10 to 12 with breakfast at noon.

A brand new idea in this town. I think I'll give one. I want to go to Jessie's to meet the wife of Jack's "boss." I am convinced it will be a good thing for Jack if I am on friendly terms with Mrs. Boss.

I'm happy because I have my lovely pearl beads to set off my black crepe when I go to the morning bridge. But I came close to losing them the other day on a street car. Across from me I noticed a strange looking man dark, thin a foreigner, was watching me. He was rude. I was annoyed.

In the crowd on the platform as we left the car this man stood close to me. As I stepped out he was higher than I and at the moment I thought I felt a touch of warm fingers on the back of my neck.

I shiver when I think of it! I put my hand suddenly to my collar and my precious beads, unclasped, slid in a heap into my palm!

I'd weep if I lost those silly beads bought with the first money my husband gave me.

I took them to the nearest jeweler. The clerk said the clasp was all right. He suggested that somebody had tried to steal them, and we laughed together.

SOCIAL EVENTS MUST BE REPORTED EARLY.

To insure social events being printed the day they are sent to the office, they must be in the office by eleven o'clock. It is requested that all events be reported the day after they occur, or in case of weddings, the same day. Events for the social calendar are requested several days ahead of the event.

Many Artists On Program For State Convention Granville

The fortieth annual convention of the Ohio Music Teachers' association is an important mile-stone in the history of this, the oldest state association in the country. This convention will be notable also as the first in which Ohio Federation of Music clubs meets in joint convention with the Teachers' association. All musicians in the state are interested in both of these organizations and to make it possible for all to attend both conventions, each organization at the meetings last year voted to hold this year's convention at the same time and place. Denison university, Granville, May 15-19.

The schedule for this year if for a co-ordinate program. Monday afternoon and Tuesday, May 15-16, are Federation Days. The contests for young professionals, with prizes offered by the Federation will be held under the auspices of both organizations, Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon and evening there are festival concerts by an Ohio orchestra, the Cleveland Symphony. Thursday and Friday are special O. M. T. A. Days, but the program for the entire period will be of interest to all. Important lectures, recitals and social events will be found on all days. The Federation has graciously extended an invitation to all members of the O. M. T. A. to attend all their programs, but voting privilege in business sessions is, of course, reserved for accredited delegates.

Some of the features that are assured are: a choral performance of Verdi's "Aida" with orchestra and prominent soloists; Recitals, by Andre de Ribaupierre, violinist, Beryl Rubenstein, pianist, the Nold Trio in a Chamber Music program, a pianist from the faculty of the Cincinnati College of Music, a soloist from the Cincinnati Conservatory faculty and several other recitals from universities of the state. There will be addresses by Ernest Bloch, the composer, Dr. Otto Mees, professor of Capital university, Professor Baker, of Kenyon, Dunham of O. W. U., Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley, Professor Weis, Mr. J. H. Thuman, H. W. Proctor and others. A Greek Pageant will be given at sundown Tuesday evening. There will be receptions and luncheons, for the pleasure of the visitors.

Mrs. Geffee Organizer Of Auxiliary To Be In City Two Days

Mrs. Louise [illegible]ffee, of Toledo, state organizer for the woman's auxiliary to the Mac[illegible] union will arrive in Newark [illegible] and will spend two days here [illegible] interest of the new organizati[illegible]

There will be a me[illegible] Friday evening at seven-thirty [illegible] office of the probate judge in the court house, at which time all women eligible to membership are asked to be present. Mrs. Geffee will endeavor to interview as may as possible and anyone interested can consult with her during her stay in Newark by calling 5696.

You will wait at least a quarter of an hour for late comers to your luncheon.

FROM MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

Cream of Sorrel Soup

One cup minced sorrel, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vinegar, few gratings nutmeg, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cups chicken or veal stock, 1-2 cup cream, 1 cup white sauce, yolks 3 eggs.

Wash sorrel and strip leaves from stem. Mince and measure. Melt butter and add sorrel. Cook five minutes, stirring to prevent burning. Add stock and let simmer 30 minutes. Rub through a fine sieve.

Return to the fire with the white sauce, salt and pepper, vinegar, sugar and nutmeg and cook five minutes longer. Beat the egg yolk with cream and stir into the hot soup. Do not let boil after the eggs are added, but stir over a slow fire three or four minutes to cook the eggs. Serve at once.

Puree of Sorrel

Three pounds sorrel, 3 tablespoons butter, 2tablespoons cream, 1 dessertspoon flour, 1teaspoon salt, pepper and few gratings nutmeg.

Wash sorrel and strip leaves from stems. Put leaves in stew pan with just enough water to cover bottom of pan. Sprinkle with salt and cook gently 20 minutes. Drain well, then rub through a seive.

Return to stew pan with butter and cream. Season with salt and pepper and nutmeg. Sift in the flour slowly, stirring constantly. Cook about eight minutes. Serve very hot.

Sorrel and dandelions are very good cooked together as the sorrel supplies just the tartness dandelions need.

KIWANIS CLUB AIDS MEMPHIS BABY TO EAT

Will Finance Operation to Save Child's Life.

Esophagus Destroyed When Tot Swallows Lye Solution.

Memphis, April 20.—(By NEA)—Gaston Rutledge, 3, Memphis' noted "tube baby," and doubtless the world's most unusual child, has been adopted by the local Kiwanis club.

Members of the club have agreed to finance an operation by skilled surgeons that they hope will save Gaston's life and enable him to eat like other children.

For more than a year the boy has not tasted food.

A year ago Gaston, son of a Memphis auto mechanic, swallowed lye that he found while playing in the yard of his home. The powerful chemical seared his throat and stricture developed that closed the throat completely.

Gaston was slowly starving to death when surgeons cut through his abdomen into his stomach and inserted a rubber tube. When he is hungry, a nurse pours milk through this tube into his stomach.

The surgeons agreed that Gaston could not grow up with this plan of feeding and live. They probed the seared throat, thinking at first they could reopen it. But this proved vain.

"The only way we can save him is by building a new esophagus—the passage from the throat to the stomach," the surgeons said.

And that's the delicate operation the Kiwanis club will have performed.

The new esophagus will be built from part of an intestine. It will be brought up from the stomach, over the breastbone and just under the skin to a point just below Gaston's chin, where it will join the throat.

That operation can't take place until Gaston becomes well and strong. So the Kiwanis club is having him carefully nursed and is giving him every attention, regardless of expense.

If the operation fails, Gaston probably will die. But Gaston's mind is filled with more pleasant thoughts.

By day he rides about in an auto with his nurse—

And by night he dreams of ice cream and cookies and apples he hopes he'll eat some day.

TEXAS SIAMESE TWINS ARE HAPPY GOING THROUGH LIFE TOGETHER

Daisy and Violet Hilton.

San Antonio, Tex., April 20.—(By NEA)—Living here are successors of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, world-famed Siamese twins, who died recently at Chicago.

They are Violet and Daisy Hilton, 18, and attractive.

Violet and Daisy are Siamese twins—their bodies are joined together at the base of the sternum—just as Rosa and Josefa—just like Eng and Chang, original Siamese twins whom Barnum made famous in the last century.

Save for the abnormal joining of their bodies, Violet and Daisy are just like any two ordinary 18-year-old girls.

And save for the fact that on most go wherever the other goes, they enjoy the same diversions and pastimes any girls of 18 would enjoy.

They're fond of checkers, cards and dominos. But both don't always play the same game at the same time.

The other night Daisy was engaged in beating her uncle at dominoes, while Violet, brows puckered, was trying to disentangle herself from the intricacies of a high bid in bridge.

Both girls like to read. But while one reads Oliver Twist, the other may be thrilled by a movie serial.

Both are fond of the movies—and of the same kind of movies, for both must always attend the same show. They prefer social pictures of wild parties to the humdrum society stories.

Each twin writes an entirely different handwriting. While the penmanship of both is good, their scripts are as different as the two poles.

The sisters romp and play about the grounds of their winter home here just as any children. They move about with extraordinary rapidity and ease.

Daisy and Violet have been educated by private tutors. Their parents refuse to send them to public school because of the comment their second condition might call forth.

San Antonio's "Siamese Twins" today are the oldest known such twins in existence. Many such twins are born, but few live beyond babyhood.

Rosa and Joseft Blazek were well over 40 when they died. Eng and Chang were 63.

FIRST RADIO SHOW IS HELD

Detroit Entertains Fans With Exhibit of Elaborate Apparatus.

Detroit, April 20.—The first radio exposition in the middle west and the largest ever staged, attracted immense crowds to the opening last night, in the exposition hall of the General Motors building, where a veritable fairyland of modern science was spread before them.

Mayor James Couzens opened the show with a radiophone address from WWJ the local broadcasting station.

About 100 exhibitors, representing manufacturers from the leading radio centers, as well as the local dealers, demonstrated the latest developments in radio devices which were displayed in attractively decorated booths. Nothing that has the least bit to do with broadcasting, receiving, installations or anything else connected with radio was missing.

One noticeable feature was the showing of cabinets of magnificent design to house the receiving apparatus that permits a roomful to "listen in" on the broadcasted concerts, many fancy names such as Radionelle, Aeriola Grand, and the Lyradion have been given them. Among those of the latter type was a giant concert cabinet which measured 7 feet high and4 feet wide. It is for use in large halls, the mellowness of tone made possible by this instrument was surprising.

One exhibit portrayed the evolution of the radiophone. The apparatus shown ranged from the crudest instrument manufactured, as far back as 1903, to the latest refinement of the radio wonder of today.

Another exhibitor displayed radio sets made especially for canoes. Imagine reclining comfortably in a canoe and gliding along to the tune of symphony music. Picnickers and summer resorters were interested in a display of camera radio sets. These outfits have the size and appearance of a camera and may be carried like one.

A moving picture was shown of the WWJ broadcasting station in action and animated diagrams depicted the mechanical progress of broadcasting from the sending station to the listener.

A section of the show was set aside for a display of receiving sets entirely constructed by boys and girls under 16.

Exhibitors who had apparatus equipped with head sets received from various broadcasting stations, so that visitors indulged their atmospherical whims to the extent of selecting the source of a radio program. They snatched grand opera Chicago, musical comedy from Cleveland, trade information from St. Louis, news flashed from New York and government reports from the national capitol.

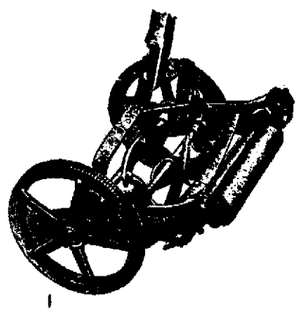

AILING WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

Germans Knew They Were But Diplomacy Demanded That They Act as Though They Didn't.

Genoa, April 20.—Delegates to the economic conference were amused yesterday on learning of a diplomatic subterfuge which enabled the German delegates to attend a gala dinner given by Premier Facta of Italy to all the conference delegates.

Baron Romano Avazzana, as secretary general of the economic conference, called the German delegation Tuesday night to deliver the note from the allies in regard to the treaty with Russia. Dr. Walter Rathenau the German foreign minister said it would be impossible for the German delegates to attend the dinner in view of the receipt of such a stinging condemnation of the Germans.

"That won't do," exclaimed Baron Avazzana. "Your absence from the dinner would emphasize the gravity of the situation."

"But what can we do?" asked Dr. Rathenau.

"It is very simple," replied the Baron. "Give me back the note, come to the dinner as if nothing had happened and I will give you the note again afterwards."

The baron repocketed the note and left.

The Baron and Dr. Wirth sat next to each other at the dinner and after the banquet Baron Avazzana waited a half hour before delivering the note in order not to break up the festivities. He beckoned the German chancellor to a secluded corner where the note was privately delivered.

NO PLAN MADE TO BROADCAST SPEECH

Cincinnati, April 20.—No arrangements has thus far been made for broadcasting by radio the speech of President Warren G. Harding to be delivered at Point Pleasant, O., April 27 at 2 p. m., the occasion being the observance of the centennary of General U. S. Grant. The great general and former president was born in Point Pleasant.

Instead the loud speaking telephone will be utilized to convey the words of the President, delivered 30 miles away, to the people of this city. The local telephone company has installed the amplifiers which were used when the President spoke in Arlington cemetery, Washington, at the burial of the Unknown Soldier, in one of the parks here, and thousands will be able to hear the address. Five extra trunk lines have been installed between Point Pleasant and Cincinnati as a precaution against accident and the line will be constantly patrolled by linemen in automobiles.

DISCIPLES DISCUSS BAPTISM AT MEETING

Columbus, April 20.—The question of open membership, whether unimmersed persons of approved Christian character shall be admitted to membership in the Disciples of Christ denomination which requires immersion upon confession of faith, occupied yesterday's session of the congress of the Disciples of Christ.

Rev. John Ray Ewers of Pittsburgh, argued in favor of open membership, while Rev. Henry F. Lutz of Washington, D. C., talked against the proposal. No action was taken.

Rev. S. S. Pappin of Bedford, Ind., advocated abandonment of the international convention of the church in a address this afternoon.

SLAYER GRANTED NEW TRIAL ON APPEAL

Cleveland, April 20.—Dominic Beningo, convicted of the Sly-Fanner murders, will not die in the electric chair on April 27. Appellate court judges from the first district, who heard his appeal for a new trial, yesterday granted a motion by his attorney for an indefinite stay of execution. At the same time the court asserted it would be impossible to reach a decision in the case before the date set for the execution. Should the judges refuse Beninigo a new trial, another date will be fixed for his death by them.

The stay granted Benigno may bring with it another reprieve for Sam Purpera, also convicted of Sly-Fanner murders, whose execution was stayed that he might be used in the Benigno trial, if granted a new trial. Purpera is now scheduled to be electrocuted on May 10. It is probable the appellate courts decision in the Benigno case will be reached by that time.

PHYSICIAN QUITS MEDICAL SOCIETIES

San Francisco, April 20.—Dr. Albert Abrams, San Francisco physician, credited with discovering a blood test to determine paternity, announced yesterday that he had resigned from the American Medical association and the San Francisco Medical society because of what he termed opposition to his research work. The immediate reason for his action was described as an attack in the Journal of the American Medical association on Dr. Abram's theory of the radio-activity of disease, which he said:

"If there is any foundation for the marvels that Dr. Abrams so picturesquely features, the scientific world has not found it out."

SHOOK HANDS WITH GENERAL LAFAYETTE

New York, April 20.—Thomas Joseph West, of this city, who celebrated the 100th anniversary of his birth yesterday, believes that he is the only person living who shook hands with the Marquis De LaFayette when the great Frenchman was a guest of the city of New York in 1824. Mr. West at that time was a baby in arms, having been born on April 19, 1822, 492 Greenwich street.

With his hair snow white, but pale and hearty Mr. West can write a letter as rapidly and speak in as firm a voice today as a man 50 years his junior.

Sofia, April 20.—The divorce issued to former United States Senator Henry F. Hollis, of New Hampshire by the pastor of the Unitarian church at Dubnitza, is not officially recognized by the Bulgarian state and possess no legal force, the department of religion and education of the foreign office has advised the Bulgarian legation in Washington.

LEGION FAVORS LARGER ARMY

Washington, April 20.—Declaring that the house reduction in the army appropriation bill is the "first step toward undermining our splendid military policy," the American Legion, through Hanford MacNider, its national commander, formally put before the sente appropriations committee yesterday an appeal for an army of 150,000 men.

The house plan for an army of 115,000 men together with the cut in other appropriations means the upsetting of the army reorganization act of 1920, so that the country again would be left without an adequate preparedness program, the legion head declared.

"We insist that appropriations adequate for a continuation of the development of the army of the United States shall be made," said Mr. MacNider. "It must continue upon a sound and efficient basis."

Mr. MacNider said the legion "unqualifiedly backs up the President, the secretary of war, and General Pershing for an army of 150,000 as the minimum needed to perform its "proper mission" in the 1920 plan of defense. Endorsement wa sgiven also to the Pershing officer bill calling for about 13,000 officers and to the plan of reduction by elimination of least efficient officers.

The legion believed, Mr. MacNider declared, that its position "was supported back home."

The legion desired particularly that there be an increase in the appropriatian for the national guard over that allowed by the house, Mr. MacNider said, and added that consideration must be given the "first line of our citizen army, for its summer training."

SENT TO DAIRY MEET.

Washington, April 20.—H. E. Vannorman, president of the World's Dairy Congress association, has been appointed commissioner of agriculture and delegate of the United States to the general assembly of International Institute of Agriculture, which is to be held from May 8 to 18, at Rome, Italy.

"CONSTIPATED AND MISERABLE"—INTERNAL BATHS STOPPED IT

Mr. L. C. Garvin of 435 E. 9th St., Chester, Pa., writes to the Tyrrell Hygienic Inst.:

"While I have been comparatively healthy all my life, yet I was always troubled with Constipation and you know without my telling you, what that means.

"Since using the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' I hardly know what it means to feel badly for even an hour. I am a firm believer in your treatment."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.

Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.

HUDSON AVENUE PHARMACY,

will gladly explain to you the simple operation of the "J. B. L. Cascade," why it is so certain in its results, and will give you free of cost, an interesting little book containing the results of the experiences of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, who was a specialist on Intestinal Complaints for 25 years in that city. Why not cut this out as a reminder to get this book as soon as possible. Remember, please, it is free.

THREE KILLED WHEN RIOTS START ANEW

Belfast, April 20—One man and two women were killed and many others are reported wounded, including two children, in rioting in East Belfast last evening. Houses on Altecar street were set on fire during the disorders.

The rioting was the result of feeling aroused over the shooting yesterday morning in which John Scott, a youth, was killed, and William Johnston fatally wounded.

At the Theaters

DORIS MAY IN "EDEN AND RETURN."

An extremely well balanced cast appears in support of Doris May in her second R-C starring vehicle, "Eden and Return," to be screened at the Grand theater for two days beginning Sunday. Emmett King, familiar figure on the stage and screen, will have a role for which he particularly suited- that of Doris May's father. Doris will be Betty Baylock, daughter of a famous Wall street operator, and Mr. King will be Bert Baylock, the proud daddy. Margaret Livingston, whose vivacity has established her as one of the popular young women of the screen, will be seen as Connie De Land, who helps to give the story much of its humor. Gerald Pring, a clever Englishman who has appeared in many motion picture productions in this country, also will have a most congenial role as Hamilton Poates, a character for which his peculiar talents especially adapt him. Earle Metcalf will have the role of Jack Grey, who finally wins the hand of Betty, and Earl can play such a part to perfection—as every young woman should know. Others in support of Miss May will be Buddy Post, as Dempsey Chubb Margaret Campbell, as Aunt Sarah, and Frank Kingsley as Sam Padgett.

CAMERAMAN PALMER HAS ENVIABLE RECORD.

Ernest Palmer, chief cinematographer for Betty Compson, whose picture, "Prisoners of Love," being seen at the Grand theater today last times, began his motion picture career with the old Majestic-Reliance and Imp companies. While abroad he did much photographic work on David W. Griffith's "Hearts of the World" and also photographed "The Manxman" for George Loane Tucker. Upon his return to this country he photographed "Virtuous Wives," "The Miracle Man" and "Ladies Must Live" for Mr. Tucker. Mr. Palmer was re-engaged by Miss Compson for her second starring picture.

STORY OF NORTHWEST AT GRAND THEATER.

A vivid story of the Canadian Northwest with one of the vital figures of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police as the hero—"who always get's his man"—that is "Tangled Trails," which introduces Neal Hart to patrons of the Grand theater tomorrow and Saturday. The star enacts the part of Jack Borden who is assigned to the task of capturing Phil Lawson, a crooked promoter, who is also wanted for murder. The pursuit takes Borden from the Northwest across the border, straight to the financial heart of New York. In the metropolis the Mounted catches his man only to lose him again. The criminal doubles back on the trial and returns to the wilderness, but Borden catches up with him and succeeds in his quest. There is a pleasant romance attached to the story which balances its dramatic moments. Neal Hart is a rugged figure as the red-coated figure and his support includes the charming Violet Palmer.

BOHEMIAN LIFE OF ARTISTS IN "THE PRINCE CHAP."

Most of the action in William De Mille's production, "The Prince Chap," which will be on view at the Gem theater Friday takes place in the bohemian colony of struggling artists in the Soho section of London. Several studios are shown and to provide the most realistic furnishings for them, Mr. De Mille made full use of his wide acquaintance among artists.

"I dipped ruthlessly into every studio I could find," explained the producer, "picking up a little water color here and an oil study there. I commandeered brass teakettles, pilfered prize chinaware, took without compunction the valued hangings from walls and windows, and even shamelessly entered wardrobes and requisitioned comfortable, well worn coats, caps and smocks."

"MOLLY O," IS BIG FILM ACHIEVEMENT.

It was Mack Sennett who flashed the wit, wisdom, beauty and brilliancy of "Mickey" to the world. But his greatest motion picture achievement is "Molly O," which is at the Rex theater, today, tomorrow and Saturday. "Bill" Gallagher the manager of the Rex theater guarantees, "Molly O" to be the best picture Mabel Normand ever had a role in. She is at her very best in the production.

HARTMAN THEATER.

Do you recall those eminently successful musical comedies, "Going Up," "Mary," "High Jinks," "Katinka" and "The Blue Kitten?" These tuneful and brilliantly cast productions were from the brain of Otto Harbach and point the way to the delights of a new musical comedy by his pen, which is to be unfolded on the stage of the Hartman theater, Columbus, the week of May 1st. The newcomer is "Molly Darling," and its bewitching name is said to be a true indication of its fascinating character.

The new play will prove a restful departure from the ordinary run of musical comedy, inasmuch as the producers, have been careful in preserving the consistency of the book and still retaining the full value of the score.

A superb cast of artists, headed by Richard Carle, and including Jack Osterman and Polly Walker, Rose Kessener, Billy and Billie Taylor, Katherine Mulqueen, Lorin Baker, Hubert Wilke, Delano Dell and many others, has been provided and the producers have outdone themselves in the matter of chorus, both in pulchritude and numbers, there being fifty of these charming youngsters in the ensemble.

By special arrangement the prices during the engagement have been made low for this unusually fine type of entertainment, nights and Saturday matinee being announced with a $2 "top" scale, and a special $1.50 matinee on Wednesday.

RIVER PAGEANT PLANNED FOR GRANT BIRTHDAY

President Harding Will Travel on Palatial River Steamer.

Four Big Packets Will Make Trip From Cincinnati to Pt. Pleasant.

Cincinnati, April 20.—The glories of the old river days when majestic steamers furrowed the yellow waters of the Ohio, will be recalled by old timers the morning of April 27.

Not since the days when the Ohio river was populous with boats will there be a gayer or more picturesque spectacle.

A president of the United States is going to travel in a presidential suite on a presidential steamer on the Ohio.

Four decorated, throbbing steamers will start out from Cincinnati that morning. The Island Queen, Morning Star The Homer Smith, a five-decker from Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., and the East St. Louis, a five-decker from Louisville—for the centenary celebration of the birthday of General U. S. Grant.

The pageant to be staged on the river premises to be the most notable affair of the kind in this section of the country.

So great has been the demand invitations to ride on one of the boats, that former Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols, chairman of the general committee on arrangements for the celebration, has negotiated for the fourth vessel—the East St. Louis.

While definite plans have not been completed, it is planned to have the Homer Smith pick up passengers early in the morning at various points, starting at Manchester. She will make stops for passengers at Higginsport, Ripley, Maysville and Augusta. She will then proceed down the river past Point Pleasant towards Cincinnati and will meet the Presidential flotilla, which is to start from here at 10:30 a. m.

All the steamers will be furnished in gala array, with flags and steamers flying, and military bands sending music across the water.

Charles P. Taft will head a reception committee to greet President and Mrs. Harding on their arrival here, and will accompany them on their voyage to Pt. Pleasant. The only living ex presidents, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court William Howard Taft, and Woodrow Wilson have been invited to attend the celebration.

The celebration will be at Pt. Pleasant, April 27, and at Bethel and Georgetown the succeeding two days.

Ten newspaper men will be in the presidential party, which also include members of the president's cabinet. United States Senators Willis and Pomerene, Congressmen Longworth and Stephens, and other congressmen.

The distinguished party will travel on the Island Queen on the trip to Pt. Pleasant, and on the Morning Star on the return trip to Cincinnati the same day.

Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, widow of Major General F. D. Grant, son of General U. S. Grant, will accompany the president and Mrs. Harding from Washington. Mrs. Grant's son, Major U. S. Grant III, will speak on behalf of the Grant family at the celebration at Pt. Pleasant and at Bethel and Georgetown.

COMPANION OF GRANT WILL SEE CEREMONY

Columbus, April 20.—Captain James M. Polsley, of this city, who remembers personal recollections of General Ulysses S. Grant, probably will make the trip to Pt. Pleasant.

Now in his 77th year, Capt. Polsley distinctly remembers happenings which occurred while he was assistant pilot on the "Tigress," the flagship used by General Grant during the campaign along the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

The veteran river pilot remembers many anecdots of Grant. He tells about the general, while riding on the battlefield during the progress of the battle of Shiloh, was pinned under his horse when it fell. Both regained their feet, and Grant mounted with difficulty, and rode back to the landing where the Tigress was tied up.

He summoned Capt. Polsley and asked his assistance to dismount and come on board. An ankle had been sprained in the fall. The river pilot called the ship's carpenter, a pair of crutches hastily was impovished. The general used them for several days.

And another time, Capt. Polsley reminiscences run. Generals Grant and Buell were discussing the group of stragglers which had found shelter under the bluffs of Pittsburgh landing. Buell suggested they form the stragglers in line and march them to the front.

Disregarding this suggestion, Grant turned to Buell and said, banteringly, "Come and go with me, general, and we'll see the stragglers in the rear of the enemy."

At Clarksville, on the Cumberland, the Tigress anchored for a short time and several of the young men on Grant's staff went ashore, where they found the remains of a petrified log. They chipped off pieces to take home as souvenirs, and carried them on board. Showing their finds to Grant, they asked if he intended to get one of the keepsakes.

"No," replied the general, "when we get to Nashville, I'll get a lock of Johnson's hair."

When these activities were going on, Capt. Polsley was just 17 years of age. At the close of the civil war, as river pilot, and in time was owner and pilot of his own boats on the Ohio. He retired from this work 30 years ago, and since then has been engaged in the real estate business.

GOOD LIQUOR IN OHIO "AINT" SAYS OFFICER

Columbus, April 20. — Bonded liquor is a myth in Ohio at the present time, according to Frank R. Norwood, chief enforcement officer under Federal Prohibition Director Russell.

"Very little real whiskey is confiscated," says Norwood. "The bottled liquor, when subjected to analysis turns out to be anything but whiskey, regardless of the label and the revenue stamp."

HOUSE BILL CRIPPLES NAVY

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT. (Assistant Secretary of Navy.)

The naval bill as reported by the house appropriations committee cripples our navy. It gives us only 67,000 men.

We believe in the limitation and reduction of armament. We have proved the honesty of our belief by our accomplishments.

The naval treaty just ratified by the senate limits and reduces our navy and establishes a fixed basis for all nations concerned—a ratio of 5-5-3 between Great Britian, the United States and Japan respectively.

We believe in peace.

If our belief is to be more than idle thought, we must maintain the navy agreed to as just and equitable in the last conference of the nations.

This year England will have 104,000 men in her navy. The Japanese will have 68,000 men. Under this bill, we will have but 67,000 men.

Ships without men amount to nothing. If this bill is passed, therefore, it cuts the naval ratio between the countries to about 1 7-8 and 5 and 3 with the United States on the small end.

The United States, under the treaty, has 18 battleships that she may retain. Under this bill she can keep only 13 in full commission. She has to put 5 inordinary with only 200 men on board. A battleship without a crew is not a battleship at all It is a naval relic.

The battleship alone is not the navy. With it must go the necessary compliment of smaller ships. Without these smaller ships the battleship is helpless. With only 65,000 men we have to lay up hundreds of thousands of tons of our auxiliary craft.

With but 67,000 men we can keep but 703,952 tons of combatant ships ready for service. England keeps 1,307,785 tons ready for service and Japan 689,456 tons.

Under the treaty we are allotted a navy equal to that of Great Britain, and 40 per cent greater than that of Japan. Should this bill become a law this relationship would be destroyed and we would be placed in a position inferior to both of them.

The department has asked for 96,000 men. This is the minimum number necessary at this time to man our fleet. With only 67,000 men, the naval ratio is broken.

We are put in a position inferior to Great Britian and Japan.

Our power of defense is crippled.

Our influence for peace and justice is limited, and we are relegated to a secondary position.

SIR CONAN DOYLE DESCRIBES SOUL

Has Decisive Opinions About Heaven, Hell and Other Questions.

New York, April 20.—(By NEA.)—Plans and specifications for heaven and hell, complete from lower to upper levels, are being revealed to Americans in a series of lectures by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Sir Arthur gets his information straight from the spirits of those who have passed on—some 23 of them. He's not as poetic but much more specific than Mr. Milton, Signor Dante and others who have essayed descriptions of the beyond.

There's not a doubt but what Sir Arthur believes in spiritualism as firmly as he believes in eating, drinking and sleeping. This bulky Britisher, knighted for his success in letters, married and the father of a fine family, conservative in his manners as any man of 65, has seen ghosts, talked with them, received written massages from them—and that settles every question, as far as he is concerned.

If you ask Sir Arthur about any phase of heaven or hell he answers direct, specific, with absolute positiveness and conviction. Here are some of his startling statements:

"HEAVEN—This is to me as definite a world as Europe or the United States. It is very like this world, except that heaven is devoid of the ugly, the unhappy, the evil things we find in this life.

"HEAVENLY SPIRITS—In heaven every person is at the zenith of his or her powers. The spiritual body is like the earth body, except that the former is complete and beautiful. In heaven we lose all earthly deformities; the person with only one leg, one eye or a crooked spine is made whole. The little children attain perfect manhood or womanhood.

"HEAVENLY HOMES—There are beautiful homes in heaven, surrounded by gardens of wonderful flowers. I believe that one finds there one's favorite pets. There are woodlands and lakes, games and sports, joy and laughter. Yes, and the opportunity to work.

"HEAVENLY MUSIC—The heavenly music is joyous, inspiring, soothing. You know that on this earth there are many sounds pitched so high that the human ear cannot record them. The music of the world beyond is of this sort.

"HUMAN WEAKNESS—Heaven is a replica of earth, except that the grossly material things and the weaknessess of the flesh do not enter there. All one's desires are realized in heaven, but the heavenly body does not desire, for example, liquors or tobacco.

"PURGATORY—This is a state between heaven and hell, in which souls unfit to enter the higher realms must spend some time, progressing from level to level, preparing themselves for the higher state. Purgatory is sadder, darker, grayer than this world. It usually takes 40 years for a soul to work its way out of purgatory.

"HELL—This is not a place of fire and brimstone, but it is a dull, dismal place, lower than purgatory, in which go those souls that have throttled their spiritual nature in this life. These souls will suffer the mental stress of working themselves out of this level. Among them will be the souls of suicides, who have attempted to escape from the exactions of this life.

"MARRIAGES"—Heavenly bodies mate, and all marriages are perfect. There are no jealousies, no covetings, no triangles and no divorces in heaven, for every soul is satisfied with its spiritual mate.

"PROOF—Among 23 spirits with whom I have held direct communication are my son, who lost his life in the war, and my mother, who in addition to talking with me wrote a note, in which she made a habitual error of spelling and to which she signed a pet name, which no medium could have known.

"MATERIALIZATION — Spirits manifest themselves to us through mediums. It is the ectoplasm that we see. (Ectoplasm, says the Standard Dictionary, is the denser outer protoplasmic layer of a unicellular organism or cell without a cell-wall, as of an amoeba or of certain ova. Got it?) This has been scientifically analyzed and its chemical constituents partially indentified.

"PHENOMENA—It would be well not to sneer at the tilting table or the tinkling tambourine, sometimes seen at seances. These have been simulated by tricksters, it's true; but what has not been exploited by fakirs? Remember that it was a falling apple that gave us the secret of gravity.

"RELIGION—The world is moving toward general acceptance of spiritualism. This means an increase in moral strength and general happiness here. Some say spiritualism is the work of the devil, but if so it is his best work. Seriously, it is the greatest revelation of God."

BANDIT PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

Cincinnati, April 20.—Noble "Red" Holt, the bandit who last Saturday shot and killed Detective Frank Hueftlin and seriously wounded Detective Alguthlein, yesterday pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with the murder of the detective. Judge Roettinger today will hear the testimony to determine the degree of Holt's guilt as upon the judge alone, without the help of a jury, will devolve the duty of passing sentence upon the bandit.

Holt was unconcerned in the courtroom. Two attorneys were appointed to represent Holt when the testimony is presented to Judge Roettinger today.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c

FUTURE PEACE IS UNLIKELY

Belfast, April 20.—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, member of parliament for North Down, told an audience at Newtownards, County Down, Tuesday night that the Paris peace conference based all its hopes for the future peace of the world upon three conditions all of which were false.

First, the leaders of the conference had said that great empires were a danger and ought to be broken up, and they proceeded to break up, or Balkanize Europe. Second, on the basis that all peoples loved each other, they formed the League of Nations, but did not give it any power to carry out its decisions. Third, he declared they went on the assumption that former President Wilson represented America, which was not true.

Field Marshal Wilson declared there has not been peace during the last three years and never would be until these assumptions were swept away—and something more solid built in their place. He said self-determination was talked about at Paris but nobody knew what it meant. Prime Minister Lloyd George, he declared, was so enamored of it that he insisted upon extending the power of self determination to Ireland, thus dividing the country into two parts, north and south. South Ireland, actuated by the love of self determination, was now divided against itself. The speaker asserted that the act of union was the most successful act passed by any British government and he was certain they would go back to union or the British empire would go to the dogs.

One does not need a physician's prescription to obtain home brew, but may need it afterward.

Kidney and Bladder Irregularities

How to Know and Treatment

Balmwort TABLETS

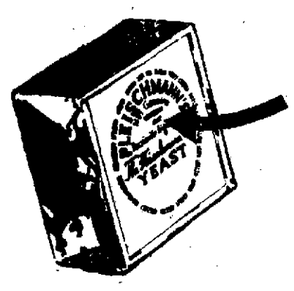

Suspect the kidneys if you have severe headache with backache or pain and soreness in small of back or bladder region.

When to use Balmwort Tablets: When the amount of urine passed is irregular or insufficient; when the calls of nature are too frequent, or when accompanied with pain, smarting, burning sensations; when the urine is colorless, or when it is dark, and scalding sensation exists.

Mrs. Andrew Nilson, 6 Sprague St., Wilmerding, Pa., writes: "The Balmwort Tablets are fine. I had irritation of the bladder. My back hurt, and a burning feeling in the bladder that set my nerves wild. The first dose helped me, as it did my sister, who had inflammation of the bladder with pus discharge. She got relief at once. We will always keep a box handy."

Sold by druggists—60c and $1.25.

increases the action of the intestines

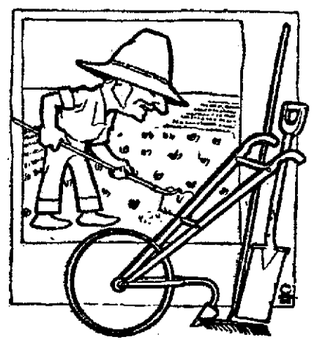

HUNDREDS of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. You can get Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily from your grocer.

THE REASON OF THIS

Reo Automobile

$1495 F. O. B.

Attention to little things—not striving merely for noticeable novelties or perfection in the larger units and more obvious features—this, in the last analysis is the chief reason for Reo quality.

The best motor in the world would not necessarily mean a good motor car. But many buyers overlook that fact.

Attracted by some novel feature, some interesting experiment in engineering or equipment—a man may buy a car and find that he has fooled away his money just as surely as if he had wagered on a horse race or on the flip of a coin.

It is quality in unseen places that counts.

It is the "hidden beauty" in the Reo product that results in handsome performance as well as handsome appearance.

Some of those points may seem unimportant to you—but the constant effort and the long years we have devoted to perfecting those seemingly small details, should indicate to you that we Reo Folk, at least, consider them vital.

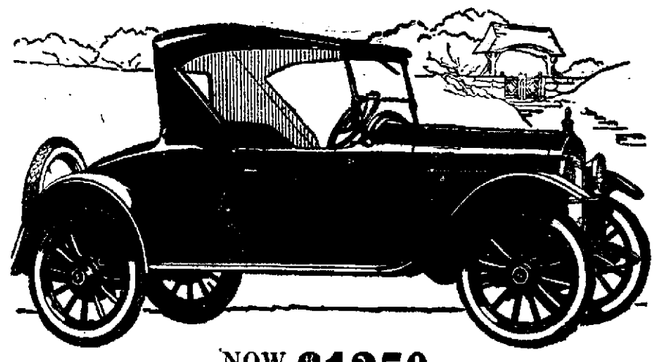

May we suggest that, in the selection of your next car, you cannot overlook one of them.

For, your experience must have taught you that it isn't the big things that go wrong.

It isn't trouble in important units—save as it originates in the most minor parts of those major units—that is responsibility for the pesky little troubles that vex the motorist who selects his car unwisely.

Roadster, $1595; 7 Passenger Touring, $1595; Business Coupe, $1895; 4 Passenger Coupe, $2335; Sedan, $2435; 5 Passenger Touring, $1495. F. O. B.

HUPMOBILE

NOW $1250

The fact of the matter is that $400 or $500 more than the Hupmobile price cannot buy, in any car, any deeper satisfaction, or more continuous economy, than the Hupmobile owner enjoys.

You probably know these things as well as we do, and your recollection of everything you have ever heard about the Hupmobile will confirm and freshen that knowledge.

It is perfectly plain, therefore, that the new Hupmobile price $1250 represents one of the very few reductions of outstanding importance which have yet been made.

Touring $1250. Roadster, $1250; Two Passenger Coupe, $1375; Four Passenger Coupe, $1875; Sedan, $1975; Cord Tires Regular Equipment on All. All Prices F. O. B. Detroit, War Tax Extra.

Bids for Roofing.
Bids for the repair and re-slating of the city barn in the rear of the county jail were opened this afternoon by Service Director Lee Moore. Following are the bids: William O'Bannon, $1749; H. A. Bailey, $1706.20; Frenier and Fields, $1690; Moul and Roney, $16.45; J. W. Weakley, $1520 and J. W. Keeley, $1669.50.

Autos Collide.
Mrs. Samuel Davis, while driving on Second street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, was struck by an Oldsmobile car, license number 469-775, which was coming along on Church street. The Davis car, a Ford sedan, suffered a broken rear spring and a crumpled fender. The owner of the Oldsmobile agreed to pay the damage, about $25.

Singing the Old Songs.
"Ah, for the old days!" sighed the old fashioned young man. "The girls of today are not at all like our mothers used to be! Why, I'll bet you don't know what needles are for!"
He glanced with admiration at the modern girl.
"I do too!" she flashed. "They're for phonographs!"—Wayside Tales.

RUMANIAN KIDS HELP AMERICANS

Bucharest, April 20.—Children in a village school near Bucharest have contributed $3, or Rumanian lei (francs) to aid the children of families made destitute by the destruction of the Knickerbocker theater in Washington, D. C.
Unable to visualize the vast extent of the United States, the youngsters believed the collapse of the theater was a disaster affecting the entire American people. Rumanian children have received much help from their little American brothers and sisters and they chose this method of showing their appreciation.

PAUL REVERE RIDES AGAIN

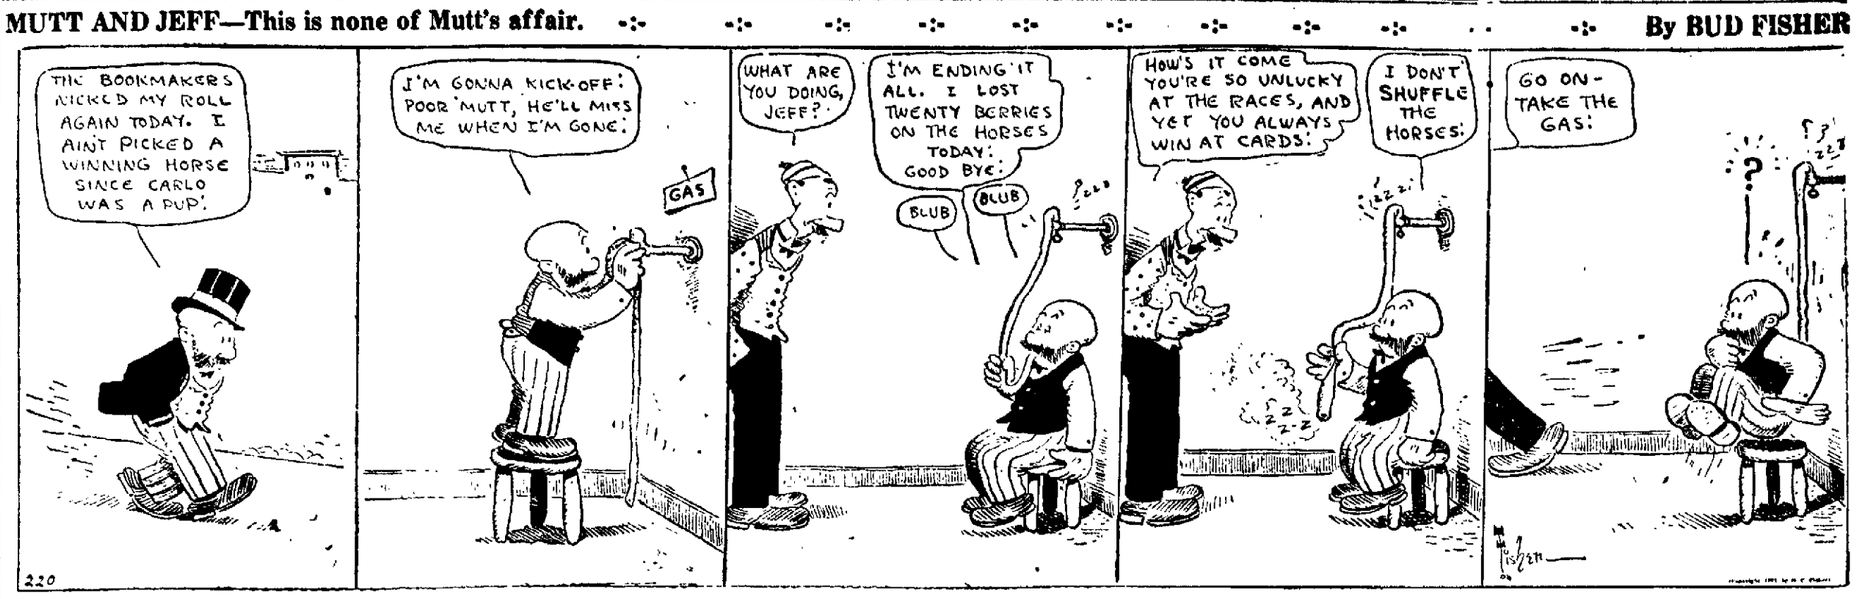

Boston, April 20.—The 147th anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord, and the ride of Paul Revere and William Dawes was celebrated yesterday. The ride of the two patriots over the historic courses was repeated. "Revere" and "Dawes" were accompanied by an escort of cavalry and their arrival in each town was the signal for the start of patriotic exercises.
There were also exercises in Faneuil hall and on Boston Common preliminary to the centennary of the incorporation of the Boston city government which comes May 1.

Hearne Guards Gas Against Water

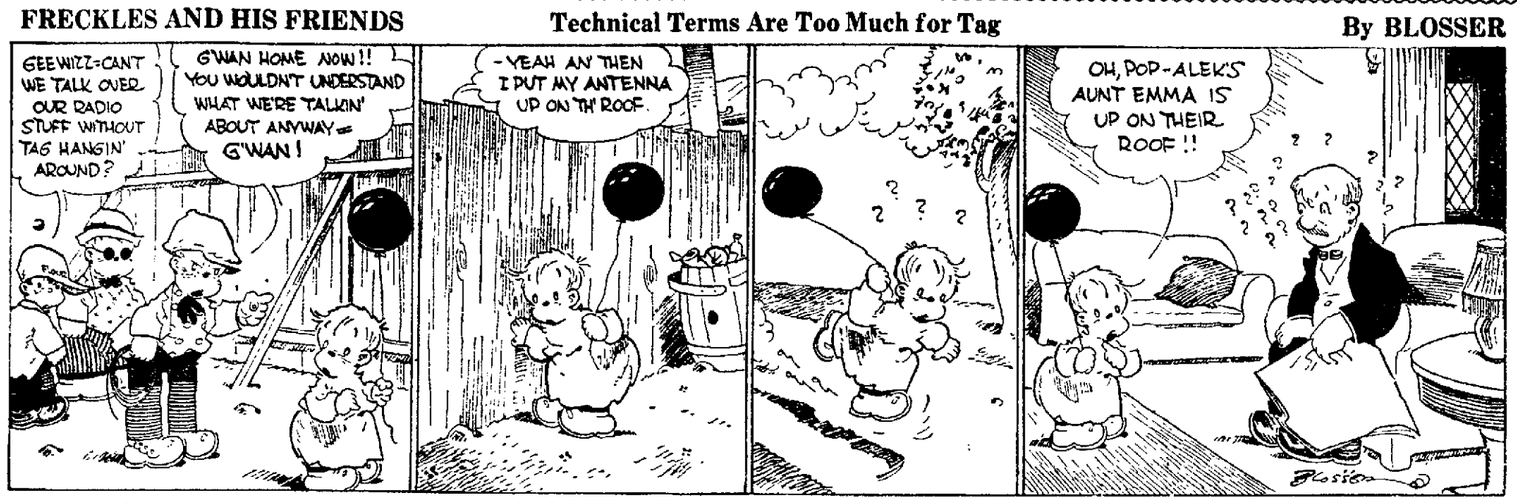

Indianapolis, April 19.—"There'll be no water in my gasoline this year," said Eddie Hearne after he had entered his car in the 500-mile race to be staged at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Tuesday, May 30.
Last year Hearne's car went "dead" far from his base of supplies at the pits. A hasty examination convinced the veteran that there was a large quantity of water in his fuel. He had to quit the race. Hearne will never be convinced that somebody did not maliciously put the non-burnable fluid in his dynamite tank, and this year he plans to have his supplies guarded.

It may be true that soft lights encourage contentment. Soft jobs have that effect.

ELEVEN YEAR OLD BOY PUBLISHES CLEVELAND PAPER

John Flory, eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Flory, is the publisher and editor of a lively little newspaper at Cleveland. It is called the Tom Thumb News and is edited and printed by Flory with the assistance of a playmate, Harrison Korner.
Volume one, number one, consisted of six pages—local news, editorial, advertising 'n everything. Here are a few selections from the department of humor:
"Do you understand me now?" thundered the prof. as he threw an inkstand at the student's head.
"I've an inkling as to what you mean."
Joe—Why does an ostrich have such a long neck?
Jack—Because it's head's so far from it's body.
Uncle—Only fools are certain, Tommy; wise men hesitate.
Tommy—Are you sure Uncle?
Uncle—Yes, my boy, certain of it.

What is the difference between a hill and a pill?
One is hard to get up and the other is hard to get down.
Joe—Did you get much relief when you went to the dentist's?
Jim—Yes! The dentist wasn't home.
"If he kicked you, why didn't you kick him back?" asked the sympathizer.
"Wot! Then it would have been his turn again," replied the abused one.
The publishers whose time is well occupied in school announces: "As this paper is not printed regularly, it is not sold by the year or by subscription, but by the copy."
It's worth the price.

FAMINE DANGER PAST GOODRICH ASSERTS

New York, April 20.—All danger of famine in Russia has passed, asserted James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana, who arrived on the steamer Olympic yesterday, after a six months tour of the stricken regions of Europe in behalf of the American relief commission. He planned to leave for Washington later in the day to lay his report before President Harding.

'PHONE MERGER AT ZANESVILLE NOW PROPOSED

A consolidation of the Bell and Automatic independent telephone exchainges at Zanesville is now proposed. The rates which are to be asked after the merger of the two companies were announced at a meeting of Zanesville business men yesterday and a petition to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission will be made requesting that these rates be put into effect: Individual business line, $7 a month; two party business line, $6; residence individual line, $3.25; two party line, $2.75; four party line, $2.25 a month.
At present there are 6250 Bell telephones in service in Zanesville and 2730 'phones are on the automatic system, a total of 8980. On the Newark system there are over 8000 stations. The merger at Zanesville will reduce the number to approximately the same as in Newark because at present many subscribers in Zanesville have both telephones.

HUMANE SOCIETY CONTEST.
The American Humane Education society, Boston, Mass., is offering prizes to children under 15 years of age who find the largest number of words in the slogan "Be Kind to Animals." Proper names, such as states, cities, etc., provided they contain only letters in the slogan, may be included. All words must be numbered and written in columns, on one side of the paper only. All contestants must mark their envelopes plainly, addressing them to "Be Kind to Animals Word Contest" 180 Longwood Avenue, Boston, Mass., not later than May 31.
First prize $10 cash; second prize $7.50 cash; third prize, $5 cash; fourth prize $2.50 cash; 10 additional prizes, each one year's subscription to Our Dumb Animals.

Tobacco Ban Is Not League Plan

Dayton, April 20.—Heads of the Ohio No-Tobacco league, which is holding a convention here, declared yesterday that they are not trying to have laws enacted against the use of tobacco but that their aim is to educate the rising generation against the use of the weed, particularly in the cigaret form.

WAS GOVERNOR'S HOME ROBBED BY THIEF?

Columbus, April 20.—Was the governor's mansion in the fashionable east end robbed, or was it not?
Mrs. Davis, the governor's wife, reported to the police Tuesday that a sneak thief had entered the executive mansion while she was entertaining some friends and stole a wrist watch belonging to her and a small amount of money.
To reporters who telephoned the executive mansion yesterday, Mrs. Davis sent word that there had been no robbery and that it was all a mistake. Governor Davis was out of the capital Tuesday and Wednesday.

HEAD HE LOSES.
Husband—"Where is my hat?"
"Wife—"On the wringer, dear."
Husband—"What! on the wringer! I wonder what ridiculous thing I shall find it on next?"
Wife (sweetly)—"On your head, dear."

The government costs so much because the people charge so much up to the government.

TELLS HOW TO STOCK STREAM WITH TROUT

How to stock a trout stream.

The Pennsylvania Fish and Game Commission has just issued the following interesting facts on that subject.

First—Brook trout will not live in streams that rise above 68 degrees temperature in summer.

Second—Banks of streams should bear trees or tall shdubs to provide necessary shade and coolness. In open spaces quick-growing willows or black alder should be planted.

Third—Remember that in a manufacturing state of large towns and cities, sewage, mill and other refuse pours into many of our streams. It is useless to put trout in such waters.

Fourth—The best places for planting are the rivulets and spring feeders. The trout will work their way into the larger streams as they grow.

Fifth — Rearing pools on the streams and side pools built of rock and sod are peculiarly suitable for brook trout.

Sixth—In order to be sure of healthy, normal propagation of trout it is imperative that pure living water should be selected.

Seventh — Notwithstanding laws restricting fishing to certain seasons most brook trout streams would soon be fished out if they were not restocked.

WISH WILL BE FULFILLED.

Budapest, April 20.—The desire of former Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, in exile on the Island of Maderia, that her coming child be born on Hungarian soil, is to be fulfilled. Count Hunyadi, in deference to her often-expressed wish, made a trip from Maderia to Hungary some weeks ago, says the Hungarian Telegraph agency, and took back with him two cases of Hungarian soil. This will be spread on the floor of Zita's room.

AGED WOMAN DROWNS.

Sylvania, April 20.—Mrs. Margaret Shull, 83, pioneer resident of this section, was drowned in a cistern under the kitchen of her home, one mile west of here yesterday. Mrs. Shull accidentally stepped through a trap door in the floor over the cistern, plunged into four feet of water and died before aid could reach her. She had lived on the same farm for the last 55 years.

HAYS TAKES PUBLICITY MAN.

Washington, April 20.—Kirk L. Russell chief of the bureau of information of the post office department, will leave the service on May 1, and become publicity director under former Postmaster General Hayes, who is now engaged in the motion picture industry. Mr. Russell has been identified with the postal service for 18 years.

NON-UNION MINE WORKING.

Youngstown, April 20.—Officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company said today that they had "some men working" at their mine at Nemamolin, in the Monongahela river coal district, but added that the production was not large. The mine was shut down more than a week ago by the coal strike.

ITALIANS QUIT TURKEY.

Athens, April 20.—The Italian forces have begun their evacuation of the Meander Valley in Asiatic Turkey, in accordance with the recent Italian note to the Angora government. The note stated that the withdrawal was to give proof of Italy's cordial feelings.

Ever since Byron's time the popular dances have been promising to reform.

Chicago Grain Review.

Chicago, April 20.—Wheat prices here average a little lower today during the early dealings, about in line with closing quotations at Liverpool. Sales of wheat to go to store in Chicago for delivery on May contracts had some bearish effect, and so, too, did notice of an attempt to have grain in cars on track here made available for regular delivery the same as if the grain were in elevators. Some selling was induced by an opinion from a crop expert in Oklahoma that danger from green bugs appeared to be unimportant. Initial prices which varied from half cent decline to 3-8c advance with May $1.42 3-4 to $1.43 1-4 and July, $1.25 1-4 to $1.25 5-8 were followed by a sag all around to well below yesterday's finish but then something of a rally.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat. After opening 1-4c off to 1-8c up, July, 64 3-4 to 64 7-8c, the corn market underwent a slight general setback.

Oats started unchanged to 1-4c higher, July 40 5-8 to 40 3-4c, and later showed trifling declines.

Higher quotations on hogs tended to strengthen the provision market.

Wall Street.

New York, April 20.—The feature at the buoyant opening of today's stock market was the crossing of par by United States Steel to 100 1-8, a record quotatiton for considerably over a year. Sale of 4,500 shares of Sinclair at a fractional gain indicated another active session in the oils. Gains of one point or better were made in the first half hour by a wide variety of issues. These included Atchison, American Locomotive, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, American Ice, Crucible and Gulf States steel and Corn Products. Reading was under renewed pressure but most coilers scored fractional advances. International exchange showed increased firmness on the more hopeful feeling arising from latest developements at the Genoa conference.

The demand for stocks assumed wider dimensions during the morning. Sales in the forst hour were estimated at slightly over 500,000 shares. The 3 1-2 per cent rate for call money and the keen investment inquiry for new underwritings gave impetus to the movement, which promised to exceed all records for the year. Additions to the early advance at gains of one to two points embraced high grade rails such as Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Reading, also industrials and specialties of the investment class, notably the prominent domestic and foreign oils, Baldwin Locomotive, American Car, Sears Roebuck, Colorado Fuel and Utah Copper. Profit taking made only slight impression on price reactions at noon, holding mostly within fractional limits.

HUNTINGTON MAN GLAD TO REPORT

Relates how Dreco, the herbal remedy aroused his liver, quieted his nerves and increased his weight.

MAKES IT A POINT TO TELL ABOUT IT.

Since the new herbal remedy Dreco, was introduced here recently, never a day passes but that someone tells of the wonderful amount of good they have received. Only a few days ago the following statement was given for publication.

L. Arthur

"I am glad to report my experience with the new remedy Dreco for it may help someone else. That is how I first heard about it so feel I should pass the good word along," said Mr. L. Arthur residing at 1925 Dalton Ave., Huntington, W. Va.

"My liver was sluggish which often brought on dizzy spells and I'd have to stop my work and sit down till they passed off. I had to take medicine daily to keep my bowels moving. My appetite deserted me so I lost a lot of weight.

"My condition was so badly rundown that my nerves got on edge and I've often had nervous spells so bad my head would shake. I'd roll and toss all night long unable to fall to sleep.

"After taking Dreco I noticed my bowels acting regularly without the aid of other medicine, the gas ceased to form after eating, my liver was worked off and the dizziness passed away. My appetite picked up so I gained four pounds on the first bottle of Dreco. I now go to bed and fall into a quiet peaceful sleep and get up next morning feeling fine. Dreco has helped me a great deal and I feel sure it will help anyone suffering as I did."

Dreco is being specially introduced by Evans Cut Rate Drug Store in Newark and sold by Druggists every where.

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES.

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

HAD RHEUMATISM AFTER THE "FLU"

All Gone and No Stomach or Bowel Trouble.

There is nothing much more alarming than heart-fluttering, especially when it accompanies a severe attack of rheumatism that seems to be incurable. Couple this with severe stomach trouble, constipation and dizzy spells and one is seriously ill.

That was the condition that Mrs. H. A. Heck of Erie, Penn., reported to a representative of Nerv-Worth, the famous stomach and bowel remedy that stimulates the poisons from the system, calms disordered nerves, gives restful sleep, stops heartburn, gas belching and bloating and other miserable symptoms that cause heart troubles of that nature. She told him too that she got relief with the first bottle and was very soon feeling as well as ever with all her aches, pains and dizziness gone.

Most first class druggists sell Nerv-Worth at a dollar a bottle and every one of them is authorized to give the money back if the reults of the first bottle are not encouraging. It is always for sale in this city by T. J. Evans and Erman's drug stores. Try a bottle today and see what it will do for you. It is wonderful for children that are constipated or run down and they like its pleasant taste

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc

Indigestion and [illegible] forms of stomach [illegible] medical authorities are fine [illegible] one of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often dreaded diet, avoiding [illegible] that [illegible] irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat [illegible] and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of [illegible] pills or artificial digesters.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes in a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength.

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenrhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery Evans' Drug Store will gladly return your money without comment.

TENNIS TEAM BEING FORMED

East Will Furnish Most of Talent for Annual Court Event With World Aspirants.

New York, April 20.—The east with five of the six leading candidates for the Davis cup team is more preponderant on the court this year than at any time perhaps in the last decade.

The west still has William M. Johnston and while 'Little Bill said 1921 was his last year international 1921 was his ast year international tennis, it is believed he will be on hand when the United States rallies its forces to the defense of the historical tennis trophy.

With William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, Johnston undoubtedly will form the main bulwark in meeting the foreign invasion. If this trio should need any support the east also can muster three first rank contenders—the veterans Watson M. Washburn and R. Norris Williams, and a comparitive new comer, Lawrence Rice, who apparently is the most sensational racquet wielder to reach the championship circuit since the Richards to the fore.

It would not be surprising in fact to see Rice as the fourth man on the team this year. The promise he displayed at the close of last season when he was ranked ninth on the national list, has been more than fulfilled so far this year, noteably by his victory over Vincent Richards in the Bermuda tournament.

A. A. CLUBS PLAY 13-INNING TIE

Louisville, April 20.—Louisville and St. Paul battled to a 13-inning 7-to-7 tie, which began raggedly but developed into an air-tight pitching duel between Deberry and Sheehan. Louisville at one stake of the game had a 7 to 1 lead, but frittered it away by bunching three errors with four St. Paul mits off Cullop, in the seventh inning. Louisville was blanked for the last 10 innings after driving Merritt to the showers. Sheehan filled the bases in the tenth and eleventh innings, but pitched himself out of trouble each time.

Columbus, April 20.—George Walker, champion heavyweight wrestler of Canada, defeated Joe Polk, A. E. F. heavyweight champion, two out of three falls in a match here last night.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM IS READY

Season Opens Saturday At Cambridge With Much New Material on Team.

Newark high school's baseball team, after two weeks practice, is fast rounding into shape for the opening game of the season to be played at Cambridge next Saturday afternoon. The team is being coached by A. B. Long this year and promises to be the equal if not better than last year's team.

The loss of five regulars from last year's lineup, four by graduation, and one because of other school activities, leaves much work for the coach. The loss of Howard Kelley, last year's reliable pitcher, will be the hardest place to fill, but Davis and Lynn will try to carry this end of the game. The place vacated by Charles Allen at second will no doubt be well filled by English, a substitute from last year. Alexander's inability to play this year on account of senior play, leaves a position hard to fill, but to date Howarth is showing up very well and is fielding and hitting in good form.

Only one outfielder remains from last year's team, Strand, who was compelled to quit the game in midseason last year, will play one field, while Baker is showing well with the bat in the practice.

Several players are trying for the outfield, but the weakness of most candidates is at bat, so the coach is still looking for players who can hit best. Another class game will be played today to try and find some new talent. One class game and two practice games have been played so far this season. Each practice has seen from 20 to 40 candidates who are eager to show their ability.

Captain Barricks, Bert Wilson, Lynn and Straad are the neuclius around which the team will be developed. An effort is being made to secure a home game for next week, but to date no team has been secured.

JOINS SEMI-PRO TEAM.

Chicago, April 20.—Johnny Overlook has deserted the St. Louis Americans pitching staff to join a semi-professional club n the midwest league, according to league officials. Overlook will pitch his first game here Sunday for the Marquette Manors.

GOLF STARS TO TOUR THE GLOBE

New York, April 20.—The latest stars of the mashie and niblick to join the globe trotting golfing brigade are Walter Hagen, twice American open champion, and Joe Kirkwood, Australian trick shot expert.

According to their present plans, Hagen and Kirkwood will sail from the Pacific coast in the fall after competing in the important championship events in this country. Their first step is expected to be Honolulu and from there they will go to the Philippines, China and Australia for exhibitions, returning by way of South Africa and probably France and England.

CLEVELAND PLANS BIG DAY IN JUNE

Cleveland, April 20.—Plans are under way to make June 7—all-Ohio day—when the Indians and Washington play here, one of the greatest events in the history of baseball in Cleveland. President Harding, Governor Davis and other national and state officials will be invited to attend the game.

Preliminary steps for the occasion were taken here yesterday by representatives of 14 northern Ohio cities. Judge Roy Williams of Sandusky was elected chairman of the arrangements committee.

COLD WEATHER FOR DETROIT'S OPENER

Detroit, April 20.—The weather was anything but promising early today for the scheduled opening here of the American league baseball season. Cold with rain or snow was the forecast.

Cleveland, the league leaders, were to be the opponents of the Tigers.

Ty Cobb, injured in the south several weeks ago, declared his intention of getting into the first home game. Bobby Jones, ill for several days, planned to return to third base, and Lou Blue, first baseman, suspended early in the week, expected to get back into the lineup.

Manager Cobb's pitching choice lay between Ehmke and Stoner.

For Cleviand Manager Speaker was expected to call upon Bagby, Morton or Mails for mound duty.

GRADE SCHOOL LEAGUE TO OPEN

Play Will Start Monday, Continuing Each Week Until Close of School.

The Nowark Grammar School league of nine teams will open the baseball schedule next Monday when Conrad school meets Woodside at White Athletic field at 4 o'clock. This league includes Mound, Maholm, Central, Hartzler, North Fourth street, East Main and St. Francis de Sales, Woodside and Conrad. All play is in charge of A. B. Long, high school baseball coach, and all games are played on the eliminating process, that is, each team as it loses drops from the league.

The trophy is a loving cup presented by Haynes Brothers, jewelers. Last year this trophy, which rotates to the winner each year until it is won three times by one school, was won for the first time by St. Francis de Sales. St. Francis de Sales is the only name on the cup as a new trophy went in effect last year. All games in this league are played on Monday. This year's schedule will be as follows:

April 24, Conrad vs. Woodside.
May 8, Central vs. Winners of April 24th game.
May 15, East Main vs. Maholm.
May 29, Winner of May 1st plays winner of May 8th.
May 30, Winner of May 15th plays winner of May 22.
June 5, Winner of May 29th, plays winner of May 30th.

All games postponed will be played on date set by those in charge of play, who will notify of new date at time game is postponed.

THREE TEAMS TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
Florys	19	1	.950
Grahams	7	13	.350
Alexanders	7	13	.350
Reeses	7	13	.350

Friday: Alexanders vs. Reeses; Florys vs .Grahams.

The Business Mens Volley Ball league last night at the Y. M. C. A. put up some heavy battling. Florys squad after considerable struggle, got the Alexanders by the nape of the neck ,defeating them in best two out of three games. In the second game the score came to a deuce, or 14 all. The Alexanders were the lucky ones, getting the two necessary consecutive points to win the game. Final scores: 15 to 11, 14 to 16 and 16 to 4.

Reese's bunch of peppy swatters cleaned up on the Grahams in best two out of three games. The Reeses won the first game, falling back in the second losing out, almost by a shut out, but they still had another chance for the third game, which came to a deuce. The Grahams tried hard to win over this game, but they made a couple bad errors which gave the Reeses the score. Final scores: 15 to 10, 1 to 15 and 16 to 14.

PIRATES TO OPEN HOME SEASON TODAY

Pittsburgh, April 20.—While the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pirates were primed to lift the lid on the baseball season here this afternoon, thousands of fans anxiously awaiting the inaugural classic were preparing to journey to Forbes Field wearing overcoats.

A cold wind swept over the city early today following ran late last night. The weather forecast for today is clear and colder. However, it was a safe prediction that the opening game would be played providing the skies remained clear.

Port siders probably will go to the mound for both teams. Wilbur Cooper was slated to pitch for the Pirates, while "Lefty" Sherdel was expected to do box duty for the Cardinals.

VANGELDER SHUTS OUT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, April 20.—St. Louis broke Cleveland's winning streak yesterday by winning 15 to 1. Vangilder held Cleveland to three hits, duplicating his feat of last Saturday, when he shut out the White Sox. Coveleskie failed to show his usual form, but was much better than Pott and Keefe. Sisler and Williams each stole three bases, the former stealing home in the ninth.

Y GYM CLASSES TO HAVE INDOOR SPORTS

All gym classes at the Y. M. C. A. will for the next two weeks be engaged in indoor athletic competition. Each individual in the class will have a chance to set his record as the highest in the class. At the close of the indoor competition, the contestants holding the highest record in each event will have name and record placed on gym class shield for 1922.

The following events have been suggested by the physical director, broad-jump, running high jump, chinning, rope climbing for time, and potato race for time.

Several members of the classes have worked on the events for over a week and feel well loosened up for the final record.

This program will close the organized work in the gym classes and an informal program will be carried on until the swimming season opens.

It is the talk of some of the business men to continue volley ball throughout the summer season, combining both men's classes for informal play.

STRANGLER LEWIS GETS BIG OFFER FOR BOUT

Chicago, April 20.—A straight guarantee of $25,000, has been offred Ed (Strangler) Lewis, heavyweight wrestler, for a match with John Pesek of Nebraska by the Theodore Roosevelt post of the American Legion. The match would be to a finish in Chicago on June 15 in the open. Pesek's signature has been obtained. The amount offered Lewis would be a record purse for a Chicago wrestling match. It would exceed by $5,000 the purse given Gotch when he wrestled Hackenschmidt.

WONDERICH HAS NEW RACE ENTRY

Indianapolis, April 19. — Jerry Wonderlich has left a place for another driver in the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway, May 30, with the announcement that he has purchased one of the Duesenbergs which competed in the French Grand Prix race at Le Mans, France, last July.

Wonderlich was named by Mae Harvey as the pilot of her Frontenac when the car was entered. But Wonderlich who was recently in Indianapolis closing the details for the purchase of the Duesenberg leaves the Los Angeles woman without a driver. He is taking the car to the Pacific Coast to enter it in two races and will then bring it back to Indianapolis for the 500-mile affair.

YANKEES TO FLOAT PENNANT AT OPENER

New York, April 20.—American league followers of this city were preparing to give their diamond heroes a hearty welcome at the Polo Grounds today. The Yankees had arranged to celebrate their first home appearance of the year by raising the championship pennant they won last autumn—the first ever won by the New York team of the junior circuit.

Before coming home to open their series with Washington, the Yankees yesterday divided honors in a double bill with the Boston Red Sox They bowed to Jack Quinn in the first game, but took the second through the fine pitching of Waite Hoyt and the batting of Miller. Miller's day's work included a home run, a triple and two singles. In addition, he made four of his team's five runs.

Cleveland lost her first game of the season yesterday to the St. Louis Browns, who were in a savage mood. Sisler, Jacobson and Van Gilder all had a great day at the bat. The Giants were hoping for fair skies today for their first game of the Brooklyn series.

FIRST DOUBLE BILL PLAYED IN BOSTON

Boston, April 20.—Boston and New York divided a double-header yesterday. Boston hit Mays hard toward the close of the first game and won, 5 to 3, and with Hoyt in rare condition in the second game New York was victorious 6 to 1. Miller made a home run over the left field fence, a triple and two singles in the second game. Umpire Wilson put Harper, Ward and Huggins out of the second game for too vigorous remarks.

BOXER KIDNAPPED ON WAY TO MATCH

Peoria, Ill., April 20.—Stanley Everett, Pekin, 118., bantamweight boxer who mysteriously disappeared before a match last night in which he was to have met Herbie Schaefer of Chicago, arrived at his home in Pekin early this morning badly beaten up and told a story of having been kidnapped in Peoria and thrown into a box car at Wesley City unconscious. When he regained consciousness he said he walked to Pekin.

MARATHON CHAMP AGAIN WINS EASTERN TITLE

Boston, April 20.—Clarence H Demar of Melrose, a winner eleven years ago, won the American Marathon road race again yesterday. He established a new record for the event, covering the 25 miles in two hours, 18 minutes 10 seconds. It was the second time in the long history of the run that a winner has repeated.

Demar cut 47 3-8 seconds off the former record.

Willie Ritola of New York, finished second, about four minutes behind Demar. The Canadian champion, Albert Smoke of Peterboro, Ont., an Indian was third. Victor Macauley of Windsor, N. S., fourth.

KNOWS EVERY BRICK IN TRACK

Indianapolis, April 19.—"Don't make any difference to me whether there is snow, sleet or sunshine on the track," remarked Howdy Wilcox, who has been running his Peugeot over the local speed path two or three times every week this winter, in preparation for the International 500-mile race to be held May 30. "You see" he explained, "I've been over the track so much I know every brick in it. Can't fool me on that course."

Wilcox works a day or so on his car making changes and then takes the car to the speedway to try it out. He won in 1919.

SPORT BRIEFS.

KENTUCKY LOSES MOONSHINE TITLE

Federal Judge Says Its No Longer The Moonshine State.

Says Big Cities in Many States Compete For Title.

Cincinnati, April 20. — Reading the newspapers, Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the federal district court of eastern Kentucky, learns these days that police are smashing moonshine stills in tenment houses of the cities, that thousand-gallon stills are being uncovered in city attics; that moonshiners peddle their stuff on the crowded highways of the great centers of civilization; that men perish or go daft from the poison distilled by the city moonshiner.

When he reads these things his heart chuckles for his state, which has been much maligned as the home of moonshine, where the mountaineer distiller battled the revenuers.

So he says:

"Kentucky no longer is THE moonshine state. Its status has changed."

He lives in Cincinnati when conducting court in Covington, a part of his district opposite Cincinnati.

Long ago he qualified as the nation's leading authority on moonshiners and their ways.

When prohibition still was being preached only in churches, Cochran was sending moonshiners to the penitentiary.

In 20 years he estimates he has fined or sentenced to prison 15,000 moonshiners and bootleggers.

"On one occasion 21 moonshiners were taken to prison from my court," he says. "A special car was needed to haul them all."

Those were the days when there was romance in moonshining and the best authors wrote novels around the moonshiner on his lonely mountain trail.

Judge Cochran has found them to be square men, being Kentuckians.

There have been occasions, he says, when to go to prison immediately would interrupt the moonshiner's spring planting or his harvesting, thus causing distress to his family which depended on the crop for its livelihood.

So Judge Cochran has permitted the prisoner to go home on bond, finish his planting or his harvesting and then come back to begin serving his sentence.

And no Kentucky moonshiner ever has failed him.

So it must warm the judge's Kentucky heart when he compares the native Kentucky moonshiner, bad as he is, with the sordid samples of moonshiner who infest the large cities.

It is estimated by Kentucklans that in a city like Chivcago more moonshine is produced in a week than was produced in the Kentucky mountains in a year in the old days.

Judge Cochran believes the Volstead law does not treat moonshiners rough enough.

He ponts out that under the old revenue law he could send a moonshiner to the penitentiary. Now the worst he can do with one, under the Volstead law, is to send him to jail for six months and fine him.

Despite the hundreds of moonshiners and bootleggers who pass through his court, Judge Cochran has faith in prohibition and its ultimate triumph.

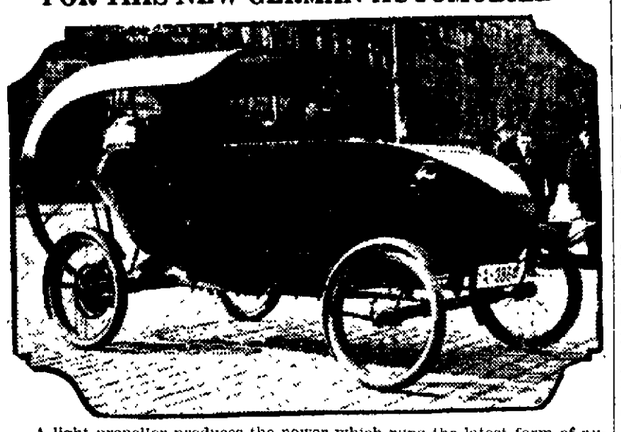

"Prohibition is respected more and more," he says. "Each year its enforcement will be less difficult, for the people see it is a good thing. They can't help seeing the good of it, despite its violations by the minority. The majority of the people are for law enforcement."

GROW WHISKERS IS ORDER TO COPS

Sacramento, Calif., April 20.—A formal order requesting policemen and firemen to grow whiskers for the days of '49 celebration to be held here next month, will be issued, City Manager Clyde L. Seavy announced following a meeting of the "whiskers club" of which he is the "chief whiskerino."

He will also ask railway employes coming into the city to grow whiskers. The club adopted a rule that any member shaving his whiskers before May 28 must shave his head also.

AIR PROPELLER FURNISHES MOTIVE POWER FOR THIS NEW GERMAN AUTOMOBILE

A light propeller produces the power which runs the latest form of automobile made in Germany. The car weighs 500 pounds and is driven by a four-cylinder motor of 26 horsepower. It costs less than a motorcycle with side car, its manufacturers say.

CHIMNEY FALLS TWO MISSING

Clinton, Iowa, April 20.—Two children remained unaccounted for yesterday following the collapse of a big brick smoke stack at noon in the Irving school here. The escape of more than 330 other children was considered a remarkable example of training. An alarm brought them into marching formation and within a few minutes they had filed out of the building without breaking ranks.

Newark Radio Is Heard on Pacific

San Francisco, April 20.—Radiophone concerts from Newark, N. J., and Schnectady, N. Y., were reported to have been heard in San Francisco homes Tuesday night through a repeating device at the Rock Ridge radio station in Oakland. The Oakland station established connection with the two eastern points two weeks ago. Henry M. Shaw in charge of the station, said he manifolded the sounds that had traveled about 3,000 miles so that they were picked up on the home sets here.

Kleeveldt Loraine, 472,459, whose mother has a seven day record of more than 25 pounds butter.

Kleeveldt Jessie Imis, 411,038, who has an official record of 19.66 pounds butter and 412.1 pounds of milk in seven days as a junior three year old.

Kleeveldt Segis Carlisle, 355,521, a yearling, son of Kleeveldt Bertha, 298,437, who has a seven day record of 29.82 pounds butter and 645.1 pound milk. She produced 106.5 pounds milk in one day.

The cow Kleeveldt Segis Alice De Kol, 359,713 will also be sold. She has a seven-day record of 554.6 pounds of milk and 20.06 pounds butter.

Another good female is the two-year old heifer, Kleeveldt Virgini Nye, 609,406, who has a seven-day record of 367.7 pounds milk and 17.56 pounds butter.

Last year the state Holstein sale was held at Columbus, but this year it will be held at North Randall at the edge of Cleveland on May 2 and 3.

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Madder, I always wins the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick, madder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the delicious kind of Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes.

A Bible Thought for Today.

LOVE MASTERS FEAR—There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.—1 John 4.18.

LAW BREAKING ALIENS.

The House of Representatives at Washington passed a few days ago, a law that would authorize deportation of aliens who have violated the narcotic drug or Volstead laws. This bill was denounced by a number of members as unreasonable and hypocritical.

There will be a quite general feeling, though, that aliens who can't obey the laws of this country are not fit to remain here. Probably a majority of the people would not be so much disposed to vote against this proposition, as to feel that it should be the rule in many other offences.

A large part of the people who are involved in automobile accidents are said to be aliens. With little judgment and sense of other people's rights, they tear around the country and smash up themselves and others. A big share of the crooks and gunmen are known to be aliens.

Formerly these foreigners used to come over here with a wholesome respect for American laws. They grew up in countries where there is less freedom than exists here, and they were respectful to public authority when they got on this side. But since the war conditions of chaos have existed in many parts of the world. The brutality of war and the general social disintegration have infected a lot of ignorant people.

The aliens in the main are well meaning, but they have had little hhance to understand American ideas and under wrong influences it is easy to lead them into wrong paths. When they set out to break American laws, they need some drastic treatment. If a few of them were deported for rum running and other offences, it would have a wonderfully tonic effect on the conduct of others, who would conclude that American laws were meant to be obeyed.

MAN NO LONGER LORD.

The changes recommended for the Episcopal prayer book, provide for striking the word "obey" from the marriage service, so that the bride shall no longer pledge herself to obey her husband.

Many brides, in repeating these traditional words, have interpreted the same in a sense different from the ancient one. At least the number of wives who for the past 25 years have obeyed their husbands is not very considerable.

In demanding the right to freedom of action, women are in accordance with the spirit of modern life. The wife is an equal partner in the work of the family. Most men who have conducted controversies with their wives have learned from experience that the latter are quite able to cope with them. Masculine superiority can not be grounded on any claim other than that of superior physical force, and even that condition is frequently non-existent now. Man should gracefully retire from his position as lord, and take up the more winsome one of partner.

Perhaps one reason why the wheels of progress often creak is that all the grease is being taken for the political machines.

While it's fine to go in for culture, many more people must go in for agriculture in Ohio if food prices are to come down.

This country needs fewer people pounding on jazz instruments, and more pounding stone out on the roads.

The African savages might get some ideas that would please them if they would come up and observe modern dancing.

With all these bandits roaming around the country, there is a good chance for the citizen to secure target practice.

The fellows who sell Get-Rich-Quick stocks deplore the pessimism existing among conservative investors.

NOT PARTISAN BUT LUNATIC.

(The New Yorw World.)

Forty-eight hours before the Senate Finance Committee reported out its Tariff Bill the executives of the American Woolen company, familiarly known as the Woolen Trust, arrived at the solemn conclusion that the cost of raw materials would necessitate an increase from 10 to 45 cents a yard in the price of cloth. What this will mean when the advance reaches the ultimate consumer has already been demonstrated by abundant experience.

There may be no immediate relation between the decision of the executives of the Woolen Trust and the tariff rates adopted by the Senate committee, but if the bill goes through as framed the trust will soon have reason to be astonished at its own moderation. It can carry on the business of making horizontal increases for a long time to come, and should Mr. Fordney succeed in having his American-valuation plan superimposed on the excessive duties already accepted by both factions the trust will be in a position to fix its own tariff by the simple process of boosting wholesale prices. If it is the Senate bill that is adopted, the trust will still have everything that was ever granted to it by the notorious Schedule K, with the additional advantage of an appeal to the president for the further manipulation of rates.

Senator Simmons, who is the ranking Democratic member of the Finance committee, calls the Senate tariff "the most un-American bill that was ever framed," but this is not a happy characterization. It might be very difficult to say what constituted an American tariff or an un-American tariff, but it is comparatively easy to say what constitutes a wise tariff or a crazy, extremist tariff, and the Senate measure belongs to the latter class.

Any group of men who propose at this time to fasten upon the United States the highest average tariff rates ever written in Washington are economic morons. They belong to the 47-per cent group represented by the army intelligence tests whose mentality can never exceed that of the ordinary twelve-year-old child. When the most obvious economic need of the country is for foreign markets and an expanded foreign trade, a Congress that tries to build the highest tariff wall ever known is ignorant of the first principles of its legislative trade.

This is not a partisan issue in the sense in which the tariff is commonly described. While the historical tendency of the Democratic party has been toward low tariffs and that of the Republican party toward high tariffs, each has tried to keep in touch with the general state of facts. Even at their worst the Republicans have never before tried to enact a tariff so extortionate that their own newspapers and economists repudiated it in advance of its adoption. Nor have they ever before tried to set aside the deliberate judgment of their own ablest business advisers.

This is not a partisan tariff but a lunatic tariff, put together by men who have little understanding of their job or of the world in which they live. Nobody could conceive of William McKinley's doing such a thing. Neither would Nelson Dingley or Nelson W. Aldrich have done it. They were extreme protectionists but they knew that there were limits to the application of the protective principle, and all of them had had experience with popular reactions against tariff extortion.

The leaderless Republicans of the Sixty-seventh congress do not rise even to the dignity of protection Bourbonism, for while they have learned nothing, they have forgotten everything.

ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS

Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Advocate Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive researches on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.

Q. What is the house of governors? E. S. E.

A. "The house of governors" is a name given to the conference of state governors of the United States, which meets to promote uniform legislation and to discuss questions of common interests. This conference was the outcome of the conference of governors called by President Roosevelt in 1907 to consider the conservation question. Some of the questions that have been dealt with by the "house of governors" are divorce laws, interstate commerce, state control of water power and agricultural credits.

Q. When was bootlegging first known in this country? C. A. G.

A. Conflict between private makers of whiskey and the government began with the passage of the Alexander Hamilton excise law in 1791. This led to the Whiskey rebellion in 1794, when it was demonstrated that organized and public opposition to the law was futile and such distillers began to resort to secrecy and evasion.

Q. How many car loads of potatoes are used daily in the United States? N. W.

A. Approximately 2,000 car loads of potatoes are used each day in this country.

Q. At what age do most people commit suicide, and which sex has more suicides? F. V.

A. Professor Bailey of Yale has estimated that in recent years seven males have committed suicide to two females, and that the greatest number of suicides occur between the ages of 30 and 40.

Q. Who was the "Father of English Poetry?" S. M. T.

A. Geoffrey Chaucer is usually given this title. He was the first to use the 7-line stanza and 10-syllable couplet in English verse.

Q. What is quenched steel? D. F.

A. Steel that has been hardened to an extreme degree by plunging it in cold water when red hot, is known as quenched steel.

Q. Is there a fish that can live out of water for any length of time? G. N.

A. The climbing fish or climbing perch is able to live out of water for several days without distress, during which it regularly breathes air; when it returns to the water it uses its gills, so that it may be regarded as truly amphibian.

Q. What is or was Clinton's Big Ditch? K. R. A.

A. The Erie canal, connecting Hudson river with the Great Lakes, was sometimes referred to as Clinton's Big Ditch because the canal was planned and carried to completion by De Witt Clinton.

Q. Who invented clocks? H. B.

A. Clocks, as distinguished from hour glasses, sun dials, and the like, were invented by William, abbot of Hirschau, who lived in the eleventh century.

Q. When does a rainstorm become a cloudburst? R. C. H.

A. A cloudburst generally connotes six or more inches of rainfall and at the rate of 10 or more inches per hour.

Q. How many kinds of clover are there? T. S. T.

A. About 400 different species of clover have been described by scientists.

Q. Why are bankers sometimes called Lombards? M. K.

A. The great bankers and money lenders of the Middle Ages were Italian merchants who came principally from the cities of Lombardy and settled in London, Paris, and other large European cities. Lombard street in London became a great financial center and the name Lombard came to be a synonym for money lender or usurer.

Wheelersburg, Ohio—"My wife had pneumonia about six years ago and it left her with a dreadful cough until she was exhausted. She could get no rest or sleep. Her stomach was so bad that she could not retain food. She went down in flesh until she was merely skin and bones. I had tried many doctors and medicines but still she grew worse. At last a neighbor who had relied upon Dr. Pierce's medicines for eight years, told me about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and before she had taken all of the first bottle she began to improve. By the time she had the third bottle taken her cough had entirely stopped. She gained in flesh and weighed twenty-nine pounds more than before she took the 'Discovery'"—Edw. Pinson.

EXPERTS FIGURE STRIKE COSTS

Average Consumer Must Bear Whatever Cost it Develops.

Exact Figures Impossible, Bureau Experts Find After Trial.

(By FREDERIC J. HASKIN)

Washington, D. C., April 20.—Government intervention in the coal strike, or some official action to relieve the situation, was promised "when the situation becomes acute," or when the public begins to feel the pinch of the coal shortage. There are experts who contend that the public was pinched from the moment the strike was threatened, and such of these experts as are not engaged on one side or the other of the wage controversy are now busy computing the costs of the strike. Their figures are at once interesting and startling.

The average citizen probably goes his serene way without a thought that the coal strike is hurting him until suddenly he finds that he cannot get coal when he wants it, or must pay a higher price than he was charged with his last order, and it is at this average citizen that the experts are aiming their broadsides of statistics. Thus David L. Wing, who has studied the coal problem for years, says:

"Since every cost or waste in coal production, whether it be of natural resources, or man power, or of capital, must eventually be borne by the coal consumer, it is not enough for the man in the street merely to read the news of threatened strikes, grumble over high prices and talk of profiteering and summary legislation. He must realize that this is a problem which he too must cooperate in solving, by bringing about an intelligent public opinion without which no sound and equitable settlement of the coal problems of this country is possible."

From 1910 to 1918 strikes caused 16.6 per cent of the idle days in the bituminous coal industry. The figure for the year 1919 was still larger, and for the current year it may be one to challenge public attention. At any rate, the prospect warrants consideration of the cost of the strike that began April 1.

Exact complications of strike costs are impossible. The bureau of labor statistics long since abandoned efforts in that line, for even this government agency could never secure complete reports on such concrete items as loss in wages and loss in products, and at the same time there are so many items entering into the cost of a strike that are indefinite and susceptible only of estimate or approximation.

However, in the case of a basic industry such as coal the statisticians have more informing data with which to give the public a jolt. First of all they point out that a total cessation of coal production and exhaustion of coal supplies on hand would result in the complete industrial and commercial paralysis of the nation; famine and death would speedily stalk the land and chaos ensue. Government itself would break down and civilization totter and fall. That is the possible ultimate cost of a coal strike, and is beyond reckoning in money. Nothing like that would ever be permitted to happen, of course, but the picture is one to be borne in mind.

Getting down to dollars and cents, the first item is the wage loss of the mine workers. If there are 600,000 miners idle as a result of the strike their loss each day totals at least $4,200,000 on the basis of their average earnings per day worked in 1920. Next comes the loss in wages to workers outside the coal industry upon whom idleness is forced by reason of the strike. Thousands of railroad workers were laid off the first week of the strike—one system alone laying off 16,000—and their number will be added to as the strike continues or become more effective. Other thousands of workers who handle coal somewhere along the line between the railroad terminal and the consumer's bin likewise will have idleness thrust upon them, and passing from them to the workers in manufacturing establishments that cannot operate without coal yet another wage loss item is to be chalked up.

In the early days of a strike such as the one now under consideration only the haziest estimates can be made as to its direct effect upon other industries, for reports of shutdowns are of necessity incomplete and notoriously inaccurate. It may be significant to note, however, that a large steel mill in Youngstown, Ohio, that had been closed down for long period was scheduled to resume work the first week in April and did not do so because of the strike and threatened coal shortage, and that other large steel plants in the Pittsburgh district were closing down or reducing their scale of operations within a few days after the strike was called.

To the wage loss of all these workers is to be added the productive value of their labor had they been employed, for every man at work produces something of value to society that is lost irrevocably when he is idle. Naturally each man's productive value depends upon the nature of his work, and to arrive at this item in the cost of the coal strike one man's estimate—or guess—is as dependable as the next's. Perhaps the most illuminating conception of the value of time when usefully employed is conveyed in the old copybook aphorism, "Lost, yesterday, somewhere between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes; no reward is offered for they are gone forever."

But every member of society, be he business man, professional man, farmer, workman or parasitic idler, must share in this loss occasioned when a day's wage is not earned and hence cannot be spent and the product of a day's labor has not been realized and is gone forever. Everybody has seen a town or small city largely dependent upon one business or manufacturing establishment "go dead" when that establishment suspends operations for a period, and a like deadening effect, more or less serious, must be felt in every section of the country when so essential an industry as coal suspends operations or is only partially productive and hundreds of thousands of wage earners go on an indefinite vacation.

This deadening effect, moreover, according to economists, be gan with the first serious threat of the coal strike. They point out that with the opening of the present year there was a very general determination to pull the country out of the slough of business depression and bring about that "return to normalcy" of which so much has been heard and so little realized for many months. Men in all lines of endeavor were planning to get under full swing again, and perhaps to extend or expand their operations. New enterprises were projected, bankers were more optimistic, credits were becoming easier, capital was seeking work to do instead of a hole in which to hide. The road to prosperity seemed open again.

Then came the controversy between the coal miners and operators, with a practical certainty of a strike on the first of April. "Better wait and see what 'happens'" instead of "Up and at 'em!" became the watch word in the business and commercial world, and there again is found a very indefinite but none the less real item of loss that is to be added to the cost of the coal strike.

Lost profits to coal operators, lost freight revenues to railroads (an enormous sum in the aggregate); lost profits to all middle-men and dealers who handle coal, and lost profits to all industries and businesses affected adversely by a real or threatened coal famine, are other items in the total bill which the country must pay because the men who own the coal and the men who dig it would not set their house in order before March 31.

It will be a long time before anyone will hazard an estimate as to what this total cost is in cold, hard cash, but one thing has been made certain already—it will be enough! Optimists among Members of Congress and other leaders in public affairs agree, however, that whatever the bill is it will not be too much if it arouses the public until measures are taken to avoid similar debacles in the future.

INDIGESTION DYSPEPSIA ACIDITY

Stomach Specialist Says: "Indigestion Troubles MUST GO or MONEY BACK"

Forget your Stomach troubles and begin to enjoy life, says Dr. Orth, for my famous Stomach Prescription can now be obtained at all drug stores, and is absolutely guaranteed to banish every sign or symptom of stomach distress, acute or chronic or money back.

No matter what ails your Stomach, whether it is heaviness, soreness, gas belching or the most severe or chronic Dyspepsia, Dr. Orth's Stomach Remedy is not only guaranteed to give instant relief, but it is also guaranteed to put your stomach in such shape that it will be able to digest most everything.

If the food you eat sours on your stomach, remains undigested, and there is a fullness or bloating after eating, with pains in stomach and side, I can only say: Go to your druggist and get a package right away. The very first dose must bring quick and almost instant relief, and if after taking the last dose you can truthfully say it has done you no good, take it back to your druggist and get your money back. Erman's Arcade Drug Store Evans' Drug Store and all good druggists can supply you.

The only spenders who are now devoting their energies to keeping things up are suspenders.
